Another Huge Reception Awaits General and Family

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Gen Douglas MacArthur took off at 9 58 a m (EST) today by plane for Chicago, where another big reception awaited him His wife and son, Arthur, 13, accompanied him.

The general left his Waldorf Astoria hotel suite for the first time since his New York greeting last Friday to make the mid-western visit.

A crowd of several hundred persons outside the hotel cheered as he emerged for the trip to Idlewild International Airport

A wonderful day," he commented smilingly when reporters asked him for a statement

MacArthur posed for news photographers in the warm sunlight at the airport with one arm around his wife and the other around the boy

The public had been barred from the general area of the take-off but about 300 persons at the airport waved and cheered as the four-engined "Bataan" rose into the air

Col Anthony Story the general's pilot said the plane would fly at about 18 000 feet on a route that would take it over New Brunswick N J Allentown Sunbury Philipsburg Brookville and Mercer Pa Cleveland, Youngstown and Toledo, O, and Goshen Ind

MacArthur rode to the airport in the same open automobile in which he rode in New York's ticker-tape parade last week during which he was cheered by 7 500 000 spectators Seated with him in the car were Maj Gen. Courtney Whitney, his spokesman, and Grover A Whalen, New York's official greeter

Mrs MacArthur and the boy rode in a third car The second was occupied by security officers

The Bataan apparently was experiencing some minor radio equipment difficulty as the big plane winged westward across Pennsylvania

The civil aeronautics administration control tower at Allentown-Bethlehem airport said the plane was unable to check in as it passed that point at 10 35 a m but later shifted radio operations to a channel reserved for military aircraft and maintained normal contact

Radio communication on civilian aircraft channels was resumed by the Bataan about the time the plane passed over Selinsgrove Pa, at 10 52 a m

Navy Divers Bring 23 to Surface From Airliner Wreckage

KEY WEST, Fla., April 26—(AP)—Grim Navy divers recovered more wreckage and mangled bodies from the shattered sections of a Cuban airliner and a navy trainer plane which collided and killed 43 persons.

By 10 a.m. (EST) a total of 23 bodies had been brought to the surface and taken to morgues in this sorrowing southernmost city in the United States. Nineteen were located yesterday after the crash.

Nineteen divers worked in relays two at a time, over the smashed pieces of the four-engined transport, scattered over a wide area on the sandy bottom 20 feet below the surface.

Others divers located what was left of the Navy trainer plane about two miles away The Big Wheel, the boat used for fishing trips by President Truman, found the wreckage with grappling irons.

Pile of Junk

Navy diver James A. Atkinson, of Jacksonville, Fla., said the transport plane "looked like a junk pile on the bottom You can walk all over the wreckage except for part of a wing which sticks straight up 15 feet from the bottom

Marion G.I. Wounded 2nd Time in Korea

First Lieutenant Harley F. Mooney, 22, of Marion was wounded a second time in Korea March 31.

In a letter received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Ruth Mooney of 366 Fahey street, Lt. Mooney wrote he had been hit in the right arm by small arms fire while leading his company in advance north of the 38th Parallel on the western front,

He is commander of Company A of the 7th Regiment of the Third Infantry Division.

Goes On

He was hit early in the day just after the advance began but despite the pain of his wound he was able to lead his company until the advance was assured later that day.

It was then he discovered the bullet which hit him had caused a slight injury to a nerve in his arm.

This nerve injury forced him to return briefly to a field hospital at the rear for a few hours treatment but he was soon able to return to his unit and continue his command, he wrote.

The first time he was wounded he suffered shrapnel wounds of the face and arms in an advance on the western front Dec. 11.

Rest Period

Lt Mooney wrote April 15 he expected to leave for Japan yesterday for a five-day rest in the Tokyo area. He said if his rest period came through as scheduled he would attempt to telephone his mother from Tokyo.

The Marion officer has been awarded the Bronze Star, Purple Heart and has been recommended for the Silver Star. He has been in the Army since Oct. 31, 1945 after enlisting here.

He has been in combat in Korea since August 24. His father is H. F. Mooney of 304 South High street.

Advancing Reds 20 Mi. From Seoul

U.N. Forces Fight Delaying Action; Called "Magnificent"

TOKYO, April 26—(AP)—Allied troops today abandoned their last foothold north of the 38th Parallel in western Korea.

They were "fighting a magnificent delaying action" against 300,000 Chinese pressing towards Seoul. The Reds were 20 miles or less from the South Korean capital.

Munsan fell to Chinese driving down a main highway from the northwest. The town, 21 miles from the war-battered capital, was the site of an American paratroop landing last month,

Fifteen miles to the east, Red masses surged across 38 and down the Yonchon-Uijongbu road leading to Seoul. Allied pulled back south of Changgo, four miles below the border and 15 miles north of Uijongbu.

Chinese tried to knife down an undefended strip between this highway and Munsan. Heavy artillery fire ripped into them throughout Thursday.

The U.N. withdrawal toward Uijongbu yielded about six miles to the Reds—their biggest gain of the day. It almost wiped out the western side of the Kapyong bulge in the center of the 100 mile front.

Slow withdrawals were made in the bulge, about 30 miles northeast of Seoul. One U.N. unit counterattacked, but was ordered to fall back to a new defense line.

General Withdrawal

A slow withdrawal also was begun to the northeast in the Hwachon-Yanggu salient. This sector in Red Korea had held steady since the Communist spring offensive opened up Sunday night. Yanggu, on the eastern end of the 30 mile salient, was still in Allied hands.

Most withdrawals were made in the daylight after Allied forces had held steady against Red night-time probing attacks.

Eighth Army divisions in the west were generally falling back well ahead of the Chinese masses. The terrific fire power of American artillery and Allied planes protected the rear of withdrawing columns.

But one unit surrounded by on-rushing Chinese was caught in a trap northwest of Uijongbu. There was no word from this unit late Thursday.

Field reports said it was cut off by at least three Chinese divisions. An armored task force broke through and rescued at least 100 men. It was feared the unit's losses might be high.

Other previously encircled units Turkish, Belgian and Australian—had hacked their way out with relatively light casualties.

Reds Lose 30,000

Red losses were placed at close to 30,000 in unofficial estimates. Heavy smoke and haze shrouding the battle area cut the aerial toll. Nevertheless, Marine and Fifth Air Force pilots reported they accounted for at least 550 Reds Thursday. This is about half their normal count.

Behind the screen of aerial and artillery fire, dusty columns of U.N. troops rolled toward Seoul.

"Oh well," one veteran commented, "We'll fight our way back by June and then we'll retreat again in September"

The roads down which they moved were lined with relics of previous battles in the see-saw war. There were indications indefensible Seoul would be given up to the Reds for the third time.

U.N. officers in the west said they had the power to check the Reds, just as they halted the Communists in the center after a big breakthrough early in the offensive.

The center line had held solidly until realignments began Thursday.

Communist night attacks were broken almost before they were started. Huge searchlights turned night into day, exposing the Reds.

To the northeast, searchlights at the western end of Hwachon reservoir caught 1,000 Reds marching down a road.

"The area lighted up like

Was Missing 48 Hours

AP Correspondent Arrested by Reds In Czechoslovakia

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, April 26—(AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia announced today it has arrested Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis and hinted he would be tried for "activities hostile to the state."

Oatis, chief of the A.P.'s Prague bureau, vanished Monday—the fifth employe of the Associated Press Prague bureau to disappear in three weeks. Government statements seemed to indicate the other employes, all Czech nationals, would be presented in the role of witnesses against Oatis.

The correspondent, who had complained to the U. S. embassy that he was being shadowed 24 hours a day, apparently was pounced upon by secret police Monday night as he put his car in his garage.

Three Charges

For more than 48 hours there was no word of him. The U. S embassy, suspecting he was arrested, demanded information from the Czech foreign ministry. Today U. S. Embassy Counsellor Tyler Thompson said the foreign ministry told him Oatis was arrested on three charges:

"1. Activities hostile to the state

"2. Gathering and disseminating information considered secret by Czechoslovakia.

"3. Spreading malicious information regarding the Czech state through illegal news organs, for which purpose he misused Czech citizens."

"Activities against the state" is a broad charge in Communist dominated countries. It can mean anything from espionage down to spreading propaganda. Thus, almost any penalty could be imposed.

Western reporters said Bedrich Runge, assistant chief of the Czech foreign ministry press section, refused to elaborate on these charges against Oatis. They said Runge, who telephoned the information about the arrest to Thompson, replied to correspondents' questions with this remark: "consult your consciences and you will know whether you are doing right or wrong"

Propaganda Barrage

Western sources in Prague said the arrest of Oatis may be designed as part of a propaganda barrage to set the stage for the trial of Vladimir Clementis, former Czech foreign minister, who has been arrested on charges of being disloyal to Moscow—being a Titoist—and spying for the West.

Thompson said he asked permission to see Oatis and was told by Runge that no other information could be given about the correspondent now. Runge said he would inquire about the prospects of a visit by Thompson to Oatis, who may be held in grim Pankrac prison.

Robert Bigio of Reuters, commented:

"It seemed to observers here that the authorities regarded the case as too serious to be solved by his (Oatis') immediate expulsion, as happened to other American correspondents. The charge of 'gathering and disseminating information considered secret by Czechoslovakia' stood as a serious warning to the three western

General Can Speak As He Pleases

President Promises "No Strings" In Press Conference

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—President Truman said today he will not "pull the strings" on Gen. Douglas MacArthur but will let him say what he pleases, when he pleases and where he pleases.

The President told a news conference that under legislation setting up the rank of five star general and admiral, he could pull the strings on MacArthur, but that he does not propose to do so.

In response to a reporter's question as to whether he could "pull the strings" on the general he ousted, the President said that MacArthur may go where he pleases and say what he likes to say, now that he is back in this country.

The President was asked the status of Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief aide.

He was told that Gen. Whitney had made a number of statements respecting the controversy.

Mr. Truman replied that he seems to be press secretary and secretary to Gen. MacArthur, and added there are a lot of things being said and he does not object to their being said.

Mr. Truman said that at MacArthur's request, he made Whitney a major general.

As for Whitney's status, the President suggested the question be put up to Secretary of Defense Marshall.

It was then that he said he had not, and did not intend to place any strings on Gen. MacArthur.

Gale of Laughter

The President brought a gale of laughter when a reporter said Whitney had reported MacArthur didn't have the faintest idea why he was relieved.

Everybody else knows why, the President said.

The President declined to confirm or deny a New York Times story last week concerning an administration document purporting to cover Mr. Truman's conference on Wake Island with MacArthur last October.

A reporter noted this story had said MacArthur had apologized to the President for previous comments on the Formosa question.

The questioner asked how there happened to be a document covering the hour in which Mr. Truman and MacArthur were alone in a conference.

Mr. Truman wouldn't comment on whether there was an apology, but said he might have documented an account himself. But, he told reporters, he wanted to emphasize that he might have.

"Did Gen. MacArthur apologize to you?" a reporter pressed.

Mr. Truman said he couldn't answer a question like that.

As for the controversy, the President said that a great deal of material will come out at Senate committee hearings.

Up To Senate

As to whether these hearings should be held behind closed doors or open to the public, Mr. Truman said that's the Senate's business.

The exchange on MacArthur brought several outbursts of laughter.

One came when the President pointed out that five star generals have lifetime jobs and can be recalled at any time for service, just as he has recalled Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Admiral Chester Nimitz.

"Have you anything in mind for Gen. MacArthur?" a reporter wanted to know.

The President joined in the laughter when he replied:

Not at the present time.

A statement on Whitney's status came from the Pentagon:

In answer to reporters' questions, an Army spokesman said Whitney asked for retirement from the Army on April 12.

The request was sent in message form to the Pentagon on that day and on the following day

"Amputated" Arm Tucked Under Coat

Salesman Caught Posing As Wounded Korea Vet

An Indiana man was doing a roaring business selling magazines yesterday before a Marion County woman noticed he had two arms.

Clayton Edward Briles, 22, of Gas City, Ind., posing as a veteran of Korean fighting, with one arm "amputated," and both feet "frozen," was going from door to door in Marion County selling magazine subscriptions.

Arm Tucked Under Coat

He had already sold $8 worth of subscriptions to Mrs. Bethel Van Meter of near Marion and had left her house when she noticed his "amputated" arm tucked under his coat. Briles walked with a pronounced limp, she told Marion County sheriff's deputies when she called them.

Briles was arrested a short while later, without the limp, at the home of Mrs William Rish of near Marion. Mrs. Rish had just purchased $10 worth of magazine subscriptions. Deputy Elmer Ullom made Briles give the money back to the two women.

Pleads Guilty to Fraud

When arraigned in Municipal Court today, Briles pleaded guilty to the charge of fraud and was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail. He was unable to pay his fine. Briles told sheriff's deputies he sold $50 worth of magazine subscriptions yesterday.

Briles, who has never been in the Army, was working with a group of magazine salesmen, both men and women, who use various tactics to sell magazines, sheriff's deputies reported The group is managed by an "overseer" and travel from house to house in an automobile.

THE Marion City School building program involves large sums of money. One of the gravest responsibilities of the Board of Education is to expend this money wisely, efficiently, and on the basis of sound planning.

More than a year of intensive and extensive research into every possible factor influencing the building program has been devoted to the preparation of the preliminary plans involved in the bond issue to be placed before the voters on May 8.

Many of the precautionary and research investigations pursued by the board are not particularly interesting . . . some of them, as isolated factors, may not be particularly significant. But, added together, they give us a sound plan that will stand up under careful review.

In the paragraphs that follow, we will try to give you a brief summary of certain phases of this research and planning.

The program for the day was in charge of the Marion Altrusa Club information committee, composed of Miss Frances Coup, chairman, Miss Vivian Garster, Miss Mary Kull, Mrs. E. O. Smith and Mrs. Anna K. Wright. Miss Coup was introduced by Mrs. Smith, program coordinator. The invocation was spoken by Miss Margaret Huffman.

With April designated as Founder's Day month, in order to bring the projects of the local club before the public, the Marion Altrusa Club information committee has arranged a window display at the United Electric Supply Co. The Founder's Day fund contributed by the members is used to develop vocational projects in Altrusa International.

At the next business session of the Marion Club, May 8, election of officers for the new year will be held. A district officers' workshop has been set for May 5 at Hamilton.

Televising Policy Clash Is Opposed

Democrats Fight G.O.P. Demand On MacArthur Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP) —Senator Russell (D-Ga) rallied Democrats today against a Republican demand for televised public hearings into the policy clash behind the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

From another quarter, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) defended President Truman's strategy of limiting the war in Korea, although he attributed to Mr. Truman "misguided loyalty to unworthy friends," whom he did not name.

Fulbright, who heads a Senate banking subcommittee which has looked into alleged influence of White House aides on government loans, said in a speech prepared for the Senate that MacArthur's proposals to carry the war to Red China might "set strongly against us nearly the whole free world."

Believes Truman Right

Observing that Mr. Truman "often has thought me wrong and unspeakable, while I sometimes have thought him wrong and incomprehensible," Fulbright said he believes the President was right in firing MacArthur as Pacific commander.

This evidence of support came as Russell met a G.O.P. drive for an all-out, open-door inquiry into the MacArthur case. Any such inquiry method would risk the security of fighting men in Korea, Russell said.

Chairman Taft of Ohio announced the Republican policy committee will fight for public appearances by MacArthur and others. He said questions involving military security could be reserved for subsequent private sessions.

MacArthur made it known yesterday through an adviser he has no objection to the televising of his scheduled May 3 appearance before the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees.

Russell, who heads the combined groups, said he will force a showdown vote at a meeting early next week.

Major Battle Certain

A major party battle—in which the Republicans might cry "whitewash" if they are overruled by a partisan majority—thus shaped up even before the inquiry could get underway.

Republicans seemed likely to line up almost solidly for public hearings and Democrats against, although some of the latter are on record for open-door sessions.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), top Republican on the armed services group, told reporters:

"I'm for having everything in the open that can be aired without involving military security."

Russell replied in a separate interview that he hopes to get the facts on military and foreign policy differences leading to Mr. Truman's firing of MacArthur. He said he believes public hearings will hamper and delay efforts to reach that goal.

"I think the American people prefer the facts to entertainment, however delectable, over the radio and television," he said.

Challenges "War Label"

Fulbright's remarks seemed likely to touch off again Senate debate which boiled yesterday with Republican charges that the Democrats are trying to "pin a war label" on the G.O.P.

Senator Dirksen (R-Ill) said Democratic presidents always got the United States in wars after promising the people peace.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn) said he wondered if Dirksen remembered Hitler and Tojo.

journalists — one British, one French and one American — still left in Prague."

The other two western correspondents accredited in Prague are Russell Jones of the United Press and Gaston Fournier of the French Press Agency. The latter at present is out of the country.

Six Others

Six other Western correspondents have been expelled from Prague in the last 18 months. Two of Oatis' predecessors, Richard Kasischke and Nathan Polowetzky of the Associated Press, were expelled from Prague on charges of "unobjective reporting," which were not documented by the Czech government, but Oatis is the first American or Western journalist to be arrested in Prague in the three years that this country has been under complete Communist domination. He had been under threat of expulsion for several months.

Oatis is the first American to be arrested by the Czech Communists since Samuel Meryan, a U. S. embassy clerk, was jailed in 1949 on charges of spying. Meryan was released after strong representations by U. S. authorities, but was expelled from the country.

Official City Census Figure Due in July

Official 1950 census figures for townships and municipalities in Marion County probably will not be released by the census bureau until sometime in July, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown announced today from Columbus.

He announced the official population of the county, as a whole, at 49,959. Official notification of the population probably will be received by Marion County Auditor Maurice Clements and Clerk of Courts Calvin Oborn this week.

Mr. Brown said he would have to wait until he received the official report on populations of townships and municipalities before he could make the official proclamation to municipalities as to their village or city status. Marion's population was 33,780 in the preliminary count.

Official population figures for other counties in the area released by Mr. Brown are: Crawford, 36,738; Delaware, 30,278; Hardin, 28,738; Delaware, 30,278; Hardin, 28,91,305; Seneca, 52,978; Union, 20,687, and Wyandot, 19,785.

Margaret Truman Makes Her Debut As Actress Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, April 26—(AP) —Margaret Truman makes her professional acting debut tonight.

The President's singing daughter will have a vast, unseen audience as she plays opposite Jimmy Stewart in "Jackpot," on the Screen Directors' Playhouse, over NBC at 10 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

Miss Truman has been in rehearsal since her arrival here Monday, and reports are that she has taken considerable pains to see that nothing gets into the script that might in any way reflect upon her famous father. She succeeded in having the name of one of the characters in the play changed from Harry, because it might have brought a laugh in the wrong places. A gag used in the movie version of "Jackpot," which starred Stewart and Barbara Hale, was taken out because it involved General MacArthur.

Bill Karns, directing the radio version of the play, said Miss Truman asked to have changed one scene in which Stewart, who plays her husband, is supposed to be pulling her out of bed in the morning.

"She thought that might be suggestive, so we changed it," Karns explained. "She explained that she has to be very careful."

8-Year-Old Schoolgirl Slain at Carnival

CHESTER, Pa., April 26(AP)— An eight-year-old schoolgirl blonde and blue-eyed, was slain last night on the lot of a travelling carnival while some 2,000 persons milled about the blaring attractions of the midway 200 yards distant.

The body of little Jane Althoff was found shortly after midnight in the cab of a truck parked in a secluded corner of the lot. She had been reported missing several hours earlier after she apparently strayed from her two brothers with whom she had gone to the carnival.

A police teletype and radio request for the arrest of a man identified as James R. Reeves, 35 or 38, of Greenville, N. C., a nandyman with the carnival, was issued. The police teletype message asked that Reeves 'be picked up for homicide."

CLEARED OF CHARGE

Carl Eugene Miller, 35, of 434 Scranton avenue and Charles Emil Campbell, 36, of 136 Union street, arrested on Fairground street April 18 by police when it was reported they were attempting to break into an auto, have been cleared of breakin charges. The men were held for investigation and intoxication, but it later proved they were attempting to unlock Miller's car. Officers on the night shift who made the arrests failed to report the car belonged to Miller. The next morning, officers on the day shift reported the men had attempted to break into a car, not knowing the car belonged to one of them. The men were fined $10 and costs April 19 in Municipal Court when they pleaded guilty to intoxication charges.

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD PERIL NOT YET OVER. Rescue boat (left) tours a flooded section of East Moline, Ill., in search of families stranded in water-surrounded homes. Levees at danger spots along the flooding Mississippi river appeared holding, but rain was forecast for some of the flood areas.

Woman, 32, Slain In Home At Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., April 26—(AP) —The battered body of a 32-year-old mother who may have been beaten to death with a shoe was found in her home in the Hilltop section of Columbus last night.

There was no apparent motive for the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Alter. It was not determined immediately whether she had been criminally attacked. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Coroner Albert Evans said Mrs. Alter had been dead from 12 to 15 hours. She was "severely beaten (with a blunt instrument) on the top of the head, the forehead and the face," he added.

The body was discovered by her husband, Ralph, a fireman for the Pennslvania Railroad. Their 17-day-old son was lying in a crib in an adjoining bedroom. The child was not harmed.

Sheriff Ralph J. Paul said a man's loafer-type shoe may have been the weapon. He said a heel from the shoe was found lying in a pool of blood beside the body. The shoe—minus its heel—was found in the bathroom. The sheriff theorized the puncture marks on the victim's head may have been caused by nails protruding from the shoe after the heel had been ripped lose.

The body was clad in a robe and undergarment. It was lying on the floor of the blood-spattered kitchen. Blotches of blood as high as the ceiling were found in the living room. Splattered blood also was found in the bedroom. There were two blood-soaked pillows on the bed adjacent to the baby's crib.

Neighbors reported a strange man knocked on their front doors yesterday morning and left before they could answer. One said she saw the man go to the vestibule of the Alter home.

The Alters had been married less than two years. Alter, 39, had been a special deputy sheriff for the last 16 years. Until recently he operated a merchant police system.

Alumni of Grand Prairie School will present the program when the Parent-Teachers' Association meet Thursday evening at the school. All alumni are requested to be present at this occasion.

$50 Taken In Breakins At Two Schools

Pleasant and Claridon school buildings were broken into Tuesday night and approximately $50 in cash taken from the two buildings.

Entry at Pleasant school was gained by breaking open a rear door, the Marion County sheriff's office reported today. The principal's office was entered and three filing cabinets damaged. The damage was estimated at $150 by school officials. The $25 in cash was removed from one of the filing cabinets.

At Claridon school entry was gained by breaking the glass out of a side door and opening it. The superintendent's office was entered and approximately $25 was removed from a filing cabinet There was no damage to office equipment at Claridon school.

Investigation of the breakins was made by Marion county sheriff's deputies yesterday morning.

That is the situation as of today, the spokesman said, adding that Whitney is on active duty with MacArthur in an assignment covered by orders issued by MacArthur.

"Up To Russia Whether War In Korea Spreads"

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP) —President Truman said today it is up to Russia whether the war in Korea spreads.

He told a news conference the American foreign policy was outlined in his radio speech to the nation April 11.

Mr. Truman said, too, that he is very well satisfied with Secretary of State Acheson.

Mr. Truman's April 11 speech was the one in which he gave the reasons why he said he felt impelled to remove Gen. Douglas McArthur from his Far Eastern commands.

Melvin G. Weston Named Head Of Military Manpower Group

A reorganization meeting of the Marion Military Manpower Committee was held last night at the Marion Hotel. Eleven Marion men attended the meeting and pledged support for the committee.

Melvin G. Weston was named chairman of the committee whose function it is to help and advise the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiter in Marion. Similar committees have been set up by the U. S. Army in other cities where recruiters are stationed.

Outline Need for Men

Lt. Col. Robert McComsey, operations officer at headquarters of the Ohio-Kentucky recruiting district, outlined the need for recruiting men into the army instead of drafting them. He said that a quota is set up in the different districts and then the men must either be recruited or drafted He said the army did not like to draft men but would rather have recruits.

Col. McComsey said that when men enlist they are more willing and more satisfactory soldiers.

The high caliber of men being accepted for army service was emphasized and the need for more men was stressed.

Recruiters Speak

Capt. Roy E. Gray, commander of the Columbus Recruiting Main Station, S/Sgt. Darwin Lillie and Cpl. Thomas H. Turner of the Marion Recruiting Station spoke briefly.

Those attending the meeting included Police Capt. Clyde Hardin, E. J. McAndrew, Col. R. E. Copeland, Ray W. Beverly, Charles Parshall, Ivan Barnhart, M. F. McArthur, Walter Mathiot, Gene Grove and Emory Anderson, all of Marion.

Regular meetings of the committee were scheduled for the first and third Wednesdays of every month.

In the west the Allied withdrawal was orderly.

At one time Red mortar fire poured down on the leatherneck division command post.

Cancer

$5,800 Short of Goal

With reports in the month-long campaign throughout the county not yet in from a great deal of the territory in which house-to-house solicitations have been made, H. H. Douthitt, county chairman of the Cancer Crusade, stated today that the volunteer workers' partial reports to date indicate that they are approximately $5,800 short of their goal.

The Cancer Crusade is seeking a total fund of $8,800, half of which will remain in Marion County to keep alive and support the splendid work of the Marion Cancer Clinic. Mr. Douthitt wishes every citizen to have the opportunity to aid the campaign against cancer. He emphasizes the fact that if any man or woman is unintentionally missed during the campaign, he or she will be contacted by an accredited solicitor upon notification to any member of the committees, or they may give or send their contribution to Francis B. Huber, cancer fund treasurer, at the Fahey Banking Co.

Chairman Douthitt calls attention to the fact that "cancer can be cured if taken in the early stages." Toward this end, a great and definite portion of the 1951 Cancer Crusade is directed to the dissemination of informative literature and scientific advice about cancer.

Scientists at Work

Noted cancer scientists are working tirelessly throughout the nation in every phase of research, knowing that eventually the underlying cause of the dread disease will be discovered and the marked progress already attained will be bulwarked by the glad knowledge that the human race has been freed of the dread terror of the cancer scourge and that cancer control has been attained.

The skilled and progressive work of the Marion Cancer Clinic is of intense interest to every citizen of Marion County and plays a high-level part in the over-all fight to control this killer-disease, which is more prevalent in this community than many citizens realize. Since the Marion Cancer Clinic was opened Feb. 15, 1945, the Clinic has seen and examined 1,172 cancer patients. These are represented in the 1,029 patients of the clinic and 143 repeat visits by that number of these patients.

The total number of Papanicolaou (named for Dr. Papanicolaou, cancer research scientist,) tests done since they were started is 346. Of these, 6 were positive findings. Biopsys of skin lesions total 61. Of these, 17 were positive. Blood and urinalysis tests, started on July 15, 1948, were made on 440 patients. X-ray examinations total 20.

452 New Patients

The Marion Cancer Clinic has seen 452 new patients since Jan. 1, 1949, and 77 repeat patients. Thirty-four biopsy tests have been made and listed in the 1949 cancer clinic report. Blood counts and urinalysis tests, started March 10, 1949, to be done on all patients. Total of 439 done is listed in the report for 1949. X-ray examinations totaled 18.

Details of the work of the Marion Cancer Clinic have been obtained through the cooperation of Mrs. Alma Gillis, R. N.

The scientists are "striking back" at cancer. Chairman Douthitt asks that every Marion County man and woman, to the extent of their ability, "Strike Back at Cancer with their dimes and dollars to put this demon disease under leash and save American lives. "Remember, the life you save may be your own!" he said.

Nab 2 Ohioans Wanted For Bank Robbery

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 26—(AP)—Two young Ohioans were arrested here last night on a fugitive warrant charging them with robbing the Lower Salem, O., Commercial Bank of $4,969 April 4.

They were identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as Don Morrow, 23, Cambridge, O., barber, and Frank R. Waers, 20, a laborer from Byesville. Their car was spotted by police, who notified the FBI.

Officers said they found a rifle, four automatic pistols and a revolver in their hotel room.

FBI agents in Cincinnati, O., had issued the fugitive warrant after charging them with violating the bank robbery statute. The FBI said each has a criminal record.

Lower Salem is in Washington County about 15 miles north of Marietta.

The two youths, brandishing pistols, trussed up three bank employes and escaped in an auto The bank had received an extra shipment of money on the date of the robbery.

Defense Rests In Brehm Case

WASHINGTON, April 26 — (AP)—The defense rests its case today in the trial of Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) after his wife completed her testimony. Brehm is charged with unlawfully accepting campaign donations.

Mrs. Lucille Brehm told a federal court jury yesterday that her husband knew nothing about it when Mrs. Clara Soliday, an elderly widow who worked for him, gave $100 for the 1946 political campaign and another $500 for 1948.

Brehm is charged with illegally taking campaign contributions from Mrs. Soliday and Mrs. Emma S. Craven, both clerks in his office at the time.

The 58-year-old congressman yesterday stepped down from the witness stand after denying in a day and a half of testimony that he ever received any money from either woman.

Mrs. Brehm stated that in early 1946, her husband told her Mrs. Soliday had offered to make a campaign contribution, but that he had remarked he "didn't want anything to do with it."

There was a brief flare-up between the congressman and government prosecutor Ray Baker during a discussion of the function of "Brehm for Congress" committees set up in campaign years.

Brehm explained the law limits a congressional candidate's spending, so a committee is set up on which there is no spending ceiling.

Baker asked if creation of such a committee was not an attempt to evade the law. Brehm replied that such a procedure actually is aimed at compliance with the law, adding:

"It's done by every member of Congress."

"That doesn't make it right," Baker retorted.

Later, Brehm acknowledged that he and the Brehm for Congress committees were synonymous.

the flesh torn away, apparently by the force of the impact.

The four-engined transport, carrying 34 passengers and five crewmen from Miami to Havana, and the Navy plane, a twin-motored Beechcraft with four aboard, collided with a noise like a bomb blast over Key West shortly before noon yesterday.

Hits at 600 mph.

Then, in full view of hundreds of shocked sunbathers and residents of the city, the airliner power-dived into the ocean at a speed estimated by witnesses at 600 miles an hour. It landed a half-mile off-shore. Not far from President Truman's "Little White House."

The Navy craft, disintegrating as it fell, crashed two miles west of the transport.

Ohio House Votes To Hear MacArthur

Favorable action by both houses is necessary to approve the invitation.

The house vote was 105 to 7. The negative votes were cast by six Democrats and one Republican.

Seek Names Of More Reds In Hollywood

One of Famed Ten, Once Jailed, Lists One-Time Followers

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP) —The House un-American activities committee looked today for others of the "Hollwood" ten to break their silence on Communism in the movies.

One of the ten, Film Director Edward Dmytryk, yesterday gave the committee a chapter-and-verse account of Communist efforts to gain control over the movie industry and recruit its workers.

The committee called Abe Polonsky, a film writer, to testify today in its continuing probe.

Was Jailed

Dmytryk, 42, with nine other screen figures, was jailed for contempt of congress for refusal to talk in the committee's 1947 investigation. Dmytryk completed a six-months contempt sentence last November.

Chairman Wood (D-Ga) told newsmen he hoped others of the "Hollywood Ten" would step forward in the committee's current inquiry.

With a unanimity unprecedented in the current hearings, committee members praised Dmytryk's crisp account—in which he named two dozen or more Hollywood figures as one-time Communists.

Dmytryk said he got into the party in the spring of 1944, and quit in the fall of 1945 when he refused to accept party dictates over his movie-making.

At the conclusion of the all-day session, Wood officially expressed "deep appreciation" by the committee for "the information you have given the American people on the Communist movement and its real aims and purposes."

Forgive

Several committee members voiced a hope that Dmytryk would be forgiven by the industry and returned to work. His past salary has been as high as $2,500 a week.

"Here's a place where the producers can show some backbone," sand Rep. Potter (R-Mich).

"On the face of the testimony, Dmytryk wasn't much of a Communist, anway," Wood added.

Rep. Jackson (R-Calif), whose district embraces Hollywood, said "of all the witnesses who have come before the committee, Dmytryk has come cleaner than any other."

Pastor Takes Message From Modern Incident

Referring to the recent incident of the breakin and hiding of stolen merchandise and money in the Green Camp Evangelical and Reformed Church, the pastor will preach Sunday morning on "What Turns a House of Prayer Into a Den of Robbers?" Rev. E. T. Henzel's text will be Matthew 21:13, "My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves."

Three men, aged 18 to 21, arrested early this week, admitted several recent burglaries in Marion and Union Counties, told investigators they hid some of their loot in the church, where it was later found.

Representing the Prospect-Green Camp parish at the spring meeting of the Northwest Ohio Synod, Evangelical and Reformed Church, today and tomorrow at Shelby are Rev. and Mrs. Henzel and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ruth.

Train Misses Driver But Patrol Doesn't

Joseph Vargyas, 31, of Cleveland drove his truck between the shortarm crossing gates on Route 98 at Five Points and in front of an approaching railroad train at 5:05 p.m. yesterday.

The tram didn't get him but the state patrol did.

A state patrolman who was waiting at the crossing saw him do it and arrested him after the train had passed.

He was charged with failure to obey an automatic train signal and required to post a $15 bond in Marion Municipal Court for arraignment there at 10 a.m. today. Vargyas failed to show up and forfeited his bond.

Two-Car Crash

At 8 a.m. today a two-car crash occurred on Route 4, at a county road intersection a half-mile south of the Delaware County line in Union County. Cars driven by Robert Haverfield, 74, of Marysfield moving south on Route 4 and Thelma Coffindaffer 25, of Radnor, moving west on the county road collided at the intersection. Both cars were damaged but there were no injuries.

A car driven by Orval Lumpkins, 17, of near Marion and one driven by Ward Beecher, 31 of 477 Davids street collided on Route 30-S just east of the Marion city limits at 8:30 p.m. yesterday. Lumpkin's car was slightly damaged and Beecher's car was badly smashed but neither driver was injured.

Cars Damaged

Two cars were damaged in a traffic crash which happened Tuesday at 2:15 p.m.

Scene of the crash was on Route 4, a mile north of Route 203, south of Marion.

A car driven by Robert Rensoser, 32, of 197 Carhart street, was hit by a car driven by Ralph J. McMahan, 43, of Richwood. Rensoser's car was slightly damaged while McMahan's was heavily damaged. Neither driver was injured.

Greeting

feet high was the salutation, "Hi, Mac." A big American flag will be flown from each letter.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly in a television broadcast last night invited "all of midwest America" to join in the MacArthur day celebration.

Kennelly said the city's demonstration "will be our people's way of showing in a great swelling chorus of acclamation their appreciation of the contribution Gen. MacArthur has made to our nation by his military exploits."

It will be Gen. MacArthur's first visit to the Midwest since his return to the United States last week.

The general and his party will leave Chicago at 7:30 a.m. Friday by automobile for Milwaukee. He will travel along the north shore of Lake Michigan and plans to stop at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station to visit briefly with wounded war veterans. After the Milwaukee celebration the general will fly back to New York.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON

A DARING band of foreign smugglers, arrogantly using airplanes, trucks and even freight cars to deliver illegal war materials to Sovietized lands, has been discovered by Senate probers who've just spent months peering behind the Iron Curtain. And this "Operation Smuggler," now headquartered in our own zone of Germany, is siphoning off such quantities of U. S. metals that our own small businesses are being starved for raw material and may be forced to lay off scores of thousands of workmen this spring.

Victor Riesel

The Operation Smuggler in Smuggler is the little business-man's big headache, for his huge black market prices for metal right in the good old U.S.A. and you'll understand the concern of labor chiefs here over this worldwide industrial underworld. The A.F.L. is particularly worried because millions of its members earn their daily bread in small shops which may never get war contracts and will depend on civilian work for existence.

It was an agent of Maryland's Sen. Herbert O'Conor (who will replace Sen Kefauver as chief of a new Senate crime investigating committee if one is launched this summer) and other investigators who reported the other day to the O'Conor Senate subcommittee on export controls and policies that the smugglers have already peddled over $400,000,000 worth of critical materials to the Soviet war machine.

SINCE THE BORDER hopping band moves such material as huge industrial machines, ball bearing crates, sodium compound, lead compound, nickel compound, barium compound and machine tools from Western to Red Eastern Germany by flying freight and old fashioned rail cars, "Operation Smuggler" must have the bribed cooperation of Germany business men and government officials.

Since this heavy material couldn't originate in Germany, much of it must come from the U. S., or from industrialists whom we're helping—thinking that they are our friends in this great new weltschmerts. So Sen. O'Conor's agents are trying to pinpoint the operation's headquarters and link it to any of our own government officials who are culpable either through neglect, stupidity, cupidity, or just downright love of folding money. Then O'Conor will shout loudly as he did when we discovered that we were sending oil for the lamps of the Red Chinese militarists.

AT THE SAME TIME another Senate committee has unearthed another black market operation—this time facing west. Black marketeers in Germany, France and Britain, again partially operating with material and money supplied through ECA funds to foreign industrialists, are reselling us some of our stuff.

Just the other day a small American manufacturer told Sen. Sparkman's Senate small business committee probers that his company was offered several pounds of a certain desperately needed steel—at four times the normal price. The offer came from a broker handling German metals.

So it is that hundreds of other small businessmen needing just a few tons for special jobs to keep their firms alive in this installment play war economy of ours, ment plan war economy of ours, percent over the legitimate market price for iron, steel, aluminum, and copper. Otherwise they must go out of business. So they pay it to the foreign companies, which indirectly got it, or the money equivalent, from our own foreign aid funds.

EVIDENCE of a tremendous black market in steel is piling up. It all springs out of the fact that most of the precious metal must of course go to the big companies making tanks, guns, planes, ammo and other war specialties.

But—although this absorbs almost all the critical metals we're turning out, only eight percent of our economy, by actual count, now lives off war work. So, if foreign operatives are permitted to buy here and either sell to the enemy or resell to us, or if there are payoffs in the lower echelons of the big metal producing companies and steel, aluminum or copper are peeled off for a palm greasing friend, little businessmen in the other 92 percent of our industrial world will starve slowly.

Already the layoffs are beginning to mount. Thousands are off railroad payrolls. Thousands more have been slashed from electronic plants turning out radios and TV sets. It isn't noticeable because these working men are lopped off in 2,000 to 5,000 batches.

But by spring the labor leaders say the black market will make it a black day for many a payless union man whose little boss couldn't keep him any longer.

Flower Climate

By Inez Robb

DAVIS, CALIF.

EVER since the Robbs purchased their rural slum near Flemington, N. J., I have looked with skeptical eye on the flamboyant illustrations in the various seed catalogues that clog the mail box each spring and autumn. Sorta using the mails to defraud, I figured.

I had begun to feel that only a sucker would fall repeatedly for these pictorial concoctions, the like of which I had never seen on land or sea or even in the wild blue yonder. Constant addiction to the catalogues is, like second marriage, the triumph of hope over experience.

Inez Robb

Because experience had taught me that roses I bought and raised were not even kissin' kin of the gorgeous roses enshrined in the catalogues, any similarity was purely accidental. The eight-foot, man-eating snapdragons illustrated in technicolor always turned out to be a spindly, Kalikuk variety, standing all of twelve inches with the aid of Adler Elevators.

SO IMAGINE MY surprise to arrive in the Sacramento valley and discover that the seed catalogues are on the level—almost. Not quite but almost. The seed and nursery boys have been sneaking out here for years, obviously, snapping pictures of the floral fauna that this region produces.

Even this section of California hasn't quite managed yet to have a time in January. But it does have June in April, with the result that this whole community looks as spectacular as the annual flower show in Madison Square Garden, only more so and for free.

Back in New Jersey, flowers bloom in orderly succession, beginning with snowdrops, crocus, jonquils, narcissus, tulips, peonies, roses and then various annuals.

BUT OUT HERE, time and climate are scrambled and everything is now in violent bloom, and I mean violent. Roses and tulips, iris and pansies are all blooming in the same beds.

Calla lilies are almost a weed that have to be kept under strict control. They must be spoken to sharply from time to time to keep them in bounds and from growing four or five feet tall. English daisies, which sulk in the Robb rock garden, are a semi-weed here, prone to take over lawns and almost as much of a scourge as dandelions back east (only not so good for wine).

Freesias, which grow only in florists shops in less fortunate climates, are another pest in this lush valley and have to be clubbed occasionally to keep them in hand. Ditto, ranunculas.

Coral bells, another item growing with great reluctance in the Robb rock garden, are in full bloom now and so prolific that California aficiondas are thinking of importing Mrs. Margaret Sanger to deal with the problem.

IF A MAN STANDS still for ten minutes anywhere in this district, he is apt to be over-run by wisteria. Many Californians believe that this may account for the disappearance of Judge Crater and little Charlie Ross. Man has to carry a gun to protect himself from it.

The wisteria at the moment hangs in great purple clusters all over town. Locust trees are in full bloom and perfume the air. And at least to this customer, it is a delirious experience to walk down a street overhung with orange trees in full flower.

And purely ornamental flowering peach trees are inclined to be gaudy but wonderful. The snapdragons and the stock are as big and bouncing as hollyhocks elsewhere; the iris really do look like orchids, and the broom, now spilling its gold all over the country-side, is—to put it mildly—florid.

Then, of course, the lupin and the California poppies grow in every nook and cranny.

BUT I HAVE REALLY saved the best for the last: the roses. Just like it says in the catalogues, they are as big as dinner plates, and they grow like weeds, honest, just like weeds; it's enough to drive an amateur crazy.

Give a rose an inch in this climate and it takes a mile. One climbing rose will cover half a house—and a big house, to boot. Every rose is a tree rose in size and absolutely, positively covered with great, big, huge, enormous blossoms.

I guess maybe it's the climbing roses that have me talking to myself. Imagine a house covered, really, truly covered with red roses the size of a salad plate or pink roses, if you prefer. Or yellow roses, if you are a yellow rose man.

It is simply wonderful.

But I still think it's sneaky, to say the least, for the seed catalogue boys to come out here and take their pictures. Honest, maybe, but sneaky and misleading.

Your Good Health

New Treatment Tried for Scalp

Ringworm of the scalp is a very common disease. Once established, it is extremely stubborn, and until recently, the only therapy available was tedious and troublesome to administer.

In recent years, many epidemics of this disease have been reported in large cities particularly among school children. Since the disease is so highly contagious, it runs through school rooms like wildfire, with child after child acquiring it either by direct contact or by the practice of interchanging caps. Another common means of spreading it is contact with the backs of seats in movie theatres.

The usual treatment for ringworm of the scalp consists in removing the hair in the affected areas by means of X-ray, then shaving it manually and then applying medicine to the affected areas. This treatment takes a long time, frequently lasting for six or more before the disease is completely cured.

Recently a group of doctors working in New York City reported brilliant results from the use of a new drug called Asterol. This is a fungicide. They state that in 400 cases of ringworm, most of them involving the scalp but some involving other portions of the body including the nails, only a very small number of cases failed to respond to this form of treatment.

Another doctor has suggested that the seats of movie theatres be sprayed with Asterol at intervals to prevent the spread of ringworm among children.

It would appear that in chronic, stubborn cases of ringworm this new substance might well be tried. Of course, it must be used only under the direct supervision of a doctor.

N. N.: Would a large tumor in the breast affect the health in any way if not removed?

Answer: If the tumor of the breast is not cancerous, it would have no great effect on the health, other than producing symptoms due to pressure. If the tumor is cancerous, it should, of course, be promptly removed.

Coal Dealers Form Service Organization

Eleven Marion coal dealers today announced the formation of an organization to be known as "Coal Heating Service of Marion, Ohio."

It is part of a national coal heating service organization formed by the setting up of such organizations by coal dealers of each of the individual cities.

Cecil L. Baldauf of Baldauf and Schlientz, Inc. was elected president of the organization and M. Paul Hunt of the Millard Hunt Co. was named chairman of the steering committee.

Mr. Hunt said today the purpose of the new coal dealers' group is to establish better service in all respects for the user of coal heating equipment and to put coal heating service on better level of efficiency. One of the primary objectives will be to do a better job of delivery and promote better customer satisfaction all the way around, he added.

Members of the organization will be ready to offer aid, advice and assistance to users of any equipment that burns coal, be it large or small, he said.

Starting in September the organization will begin operation of a 24-hour telephone service to aid users of coal heating equipment who may encounter difficulty from malfunctioning stokers or similar problems.

A call to this organization number will result in action by an association member to connect the party in trouble with a repairman or someone who can solve his problem.

Coal dealers forming the membership of the Coal Heating Service of Marion are: Baldauf and Schlientz, C. & O. Coal and Supply, Inc.; City Ice and Fuel Division: Cole's Coal Yard; Gaster Coal Co.; K. & R Coal Co., Lockwood Lumber Co. Inc; Marion Grain & Supply Co.; The Millard Hunt Co; Whitcum Hide & Fuel Co. and Marion Builders Supply Co.

Bond Issue

help boards of education in making school surveys, but none has a reputation higher than that of Ohio State. This bureau has made surveys in 45 Ohio cities including Akron, Ashland, Bexley, Cambridge, Canton, Chillicothe, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Delaware, Fremont, Hamilton, Lima, Mansfield, Massillon, Middletown, Newark, Piqua, Sandusky, Springfield, Sidney, Tiffin, Upper Arlington, Van Wert, Youngstown, and Zanesville.

It has conducted school surveys in many states outside Ohio. Dr. T. C. Holy, who heads the Bureau of Educational Research, is now in Idaho making a state survey of public education and school buildings.

Local school systems supply the bureau with all needed information such as spot maps showing the residence of every child in school, enrollment data, and the program to be housed in the various schools. Using this information and available birth statistics, the bureau predicts the enrollment for a period of 15 years in the future. It has been accurate in its predictions. The enrollment of the pupils in the Springfield schools this year is just six pupils different from the prediction the bureau made for tha tcity five years ago. The Akron enrollment is different by only 150 pupils in a school system housing more than 40,000 children.

USING A FORMULA developed by working with scores of school districts, the bureau determines the space needed to house students and their program. Committees of local teachers and principals work with them constantly in the planning period. After determining the needed space, the bureau makes its report to the board of education who study the recommendations carefully before formally accepting them. The report to the bureau then goes to the architect who develops a building to meet the space requirements for our schools. The bureau works with the architect during the development of the building plans.

Men from the bureau have visited each one of our school buildings several times. They have made a careful study of each school plant. The citizens of Marion can be sure that we have had the best expert advice possible in developing the school building program that will be financed by the bond issue to be voted upon May 8. While expert advice has been obtained, yet at every step our local teachers, school administrators, and board of education have checked and given approval to all phases of the work. We can be sure that the buildings to be constructed in Marion will be beautiful and durable, and so built that our children will get the best possible educational program. Only a runaway inflation could prevent the building program from being carried out entirely as planned. Even with moderate rises in building costs, the building program as outlined can be built and proper equipment purchased. Allowance has been made for moderate increases in costs over present prices.

Bad Check Passer Held in Elyria

A man who passed a bad check in Marion March 15 was arrested Thursday in Elyria for passing bad checks, Marion police reported today.

William E. Woods of near Urbana is charged with passing a check at the Millard Hunt Co. store for $100 to cover the purchase of a $50 radio. The check later proved worthless but Woods was gone. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest and an alarm broadcast.

After this preliminary alarm by the Marion police other cities began reporting bad checks by the same man. Woods had passed checks in practically all cities in the Marion area, Delaware, Galion, Bucyrus, Lorain, Elyria, Bellefontaine, and others, Police Capt. Clyde Hardin reported.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD April 26—A total of $13,000 has been received by the Morrow County Memorial Hospital Commission from organizations and individuals in the county, Dr. G. B. Robinson, commission chairman, announced here.

The donations are to be used to help equip the new $500,000 hospital after its completion which is expected by July 1.

The latest donation was a $1,000 gift from the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. employes here, Dr. Robinson reported. The company and union local have already contributed $1,000, he added. The latest contribution will be used to furnish a ward. The company and union donations will be used to purchase emergency room and laboratory equipment. The Morrow County Saddle Club gave $1,000 to furnish the lobby

The new structure is located on the Mt. Gilead-Edison road, midway between the two villages. It was made possible through a bond issue approved by Morrow County voters in last fall's election.

Members of the commission, headed by Dr. Robinson, include E. E. Kinsell, Allen Queen and Dr. Frank Sweeney.

"The gifts of money to the new Memorial hospital mark a good spirit of community helpfulness which will contribute much to the success of the venture," said Dr. Robinson. "Morrow County folk will feel that they all have a part in the new hospital."

R. W. Claar of Columbus has been named superintendent of the hospital. Mr. Claar served three years in the army hospital corps and attended both Ohio State University and the University of Southern California.

Galion Kiwanians Hear Minister

Special to The Star

GALION, April 26—Members of the Galion Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon heard an inspiring message by Rev. George Johnson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Bucyrus. His subject was "Pursuit of Peace." He spoke at the regular luncheon meeting of the club at Hotel Talbott.

"Eventually, when all the forces of evil are overcome, we will have peace," the guest pastor told the group. He stressed the fact that one common good is needed in the world to overcome the evil forces, and that selfishness and greed must be wiped out.

Milton Armstrong of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club of Columbus and three senior boys of Galion High School were guests. Charles P. Alcorn presided for the meeting, at which time the coming community auction, May 5, was boosted. Citizens were urged to contribute goods.

Repair Winter-Damaged Kenton Streets

KENTON—An extensive program to repair streets of the city of Kenton, badly damaged during the winter months, was started early this week.

The Liggitt contracting firm of Quincy is rebuilding a section of East Franklin street from the Public Square east to Wayne street, a distance of one block. The city street crew also has started patching holes in city streets all over the city. Work has been held up because of bad weather.

A project in which the state and city are participating in resurfacing East Columbus street (Route 67) and South Detroit and Fountain streets (Route 68) was started last fall but stopped by bad weather. It is scheduled to be resumed May 10 and 15, the state highway Department has informed City Safety-Service Director Millard Timmons.

Gov. Dewey Congratulates Erie Railroad

Letter to President Johnston Notes Centennial Year

CLEVELAND, April 26—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York yesterday congratulated Erie President Paul W. Johnston on the railroad's Centennial and on Erie's "great part in the building of the State of New York.

Governor Dewey's letter said:

"On behalf of the people of New York I take great pleasure in congratulating the Erie Railroad and its officers and employes upon the celebration on May 14th of the 100th anniversary of the opening of the original line. The inaugural trip 100 years ago was more than the inauguration of a great railroad system. That journey, with President Millard Fillmore, ex-Governor Marcy, Senator Hamilton Fish and the great Daniel Webster as passengers, was also the beginning of a new period of prosperity for the Empire State. It is no exaggeration to say that the Erie Railroad has had a great part in the building of the State of New York.

"The Erie has many records of which its personnel are justly proud. It was the first long-distance railroad. It was the first railroad to serve as a common carrier between the industrial East and the rapidly expanding Middle West. It was the first rail connection between the Great Lakes and the sea. It was the first railroad to send train instructions by telegraph, the first to raise the standards of safety for passengers by establishing a signal from conductor to engineer. It was the first railroad to bring milk into Metropolitan New York.

"All these are reasons for great pride but the greatest of all is the system's contribution to the growth, progress and prosperity of the people it serves. So again I congratulate the 22,000 men and women of the modern Erie who now operate 2,245 miles of railroad in six states. May their work long continue to grow and prosper."

On May 14-15 the Erie will reenact its historic run of 1851, when the original line was first opened.

District Workshop for Vacation Church Schools Set Saturday

The second of two Vacation Church School workshops for instruction of workers teaching children's groups under age four will be conducted under the sponsorship of the Lima district of the Methodist church Saturday at Upper Sandusky.

It is being held for the convenience of the church groups in the eastern section of the district which includes Marion County.

In line with the observance of the 50th year of vacation church service in the district, special effort has been made this year to provide some of the best materials available for the guidance and use of church workers, it was reported by Mrs. Bernard Wright of LaRue, chairman of the workshop in the Lima district.

The seminar will be held in the Methodist church with registration at 9 a.m. and a closing service at 3:30 p.m. Luncheon will be served at noon for those making reservations with Mrs. Allen Moser, 334 West Wyandot avenue, Upper Sandusky before Saturday. Registration fee and lunch have been set at one dollar each.

Mrs. Wright who is district director of children's work and Mrs. Ray Rothar of Lewistown, district children's work secretary assisting Mrs. Wright as workshop leader, called for a delegation from each church in this section of the district to attend.

As planned in cooperation with the Conference board of education, the workshop will provide guidance and materials on literature, music, creative activities, texts and audio-visual aids.

Staff includes Mrs. Lester Norris of Delaware, conference director of children's work; Rev. Lee C. Moorhead, Ada, in charge of visual aids; Miss Turah Mosel, Lima, junior department; Mrs. Cecil Smith, Richwood, primary supervisor; Mrs. Wright, kindergarten; Mrs. Dorothy Fickle, Delaware nursery.

The workshop has as its theme "Fifty Years and a Future" is open also parents and interested persons in addition to church school superintendents and teaching staffs, it was pointed out. Goal for the year, Mrs. Wright stated is to have a vacation church school in every community in the district.

If a living body were taken above 55,000 feet altitude without protection, the water vapor in it would boil.

North Main P.-T.A. Endorses Bond Issue

Endorsement of the school bond issue was made by members of the North Main Street P.-T. A. when they met Thursday night at the school. Speaking for the issue was Richard Prisot

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Harold Robinson, president and a donation was made to the City Council P.-T. A. for the shoe fund.

The program was given by Miss Grace Epler's sixth grade and included musical numbers directed by Mrs. Hazel Hinaman. Miss Helen Hutchins, dietitian at State Street Junior High School, spoke on the school cafeteria. Mrs. Walter Osmun was in charge of the social hour.

There are some 1,500 species of the sea animal called brittle star.

Oysters, Scallops, Shrimp in Deep Sea Pie

THREE salt wate: occupants get together for this toothsome oven casserole. Meaty scallops, plump, pink shrimp and curly-edged oysters are combined to make an unusually savory and satisfying dish.

Simmered first in butter or margarine, the trio is then added to mushroom soup and subtly seasoned with nutmeg, lemon juice and parsley. Nestling under a topping of tiny cheese biscuits, they ado up to a palatable meal that's destined to rate repeat performances

DEEP SEA PIE

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup minced onion
12 oysters
12 scallops
¾ lb cooked, cleaned shrimp
1 can condensed mushroom soup
1 T minced parsley
dash nutmeg
1 T lemon juice
½ t salt

Melt butter or margarine in skillet over low heat. Add onion, oysters, scallops and shrimp. Cook gently for 5 minutes. Add mushroom soup, parsley, nutmeg, lemon juice and salt. Turn mixture into two-quart casserole. Top with drop cheese biscuit dough.

Drop Cheese Biscuits: Add 1/3 cup shredded sharp cheese to 1 cup of your favorite biscuit mix or ½ recipe homemade biscuit mixture. Add required amount of milk to make drop biscuits. Drop biscuit dough by teaspoonfulls on top of casserole. Yields six servings.

Gains throughout the list were extremely small with a large number of stockholding at their previous close.

United Aircraft opened a block of 1,500 shares at 39¾; up ¾. International Nickel held at its previous close of 34⅝ on 2,200 shares.

Oil stocks strengthened under the leadership of Cities Service which spurted a point to a new high of 94⅞ on 1,500 shares. Skelly Oil also rose to a new peak of 85½, up ¼.

U S Steel rose ⅛ to 44½ on 1,500 shares in a generally mixed steel section. Bethlehem Steel slipped ⅛ to 56 on 1,500 shares. Chrysler tacked on a gain of ⅜ to 80½ in a steady automotive section.

Elsewhere, railroad equities were quiet and mostly higher. A few utilities displayed some strength.

Two Boys Face Charge of Theft

Two Marion boys, one 16 and one 15 years of age, will be charged tomorrow with the theft of $25 from the Marion Recreation Center on April 18, a hearing is scheduled tomorrow in Juvenile Court.

The boys were arrested at the scene of the breakin by a merchant policeman, but since the boys were outside the building and had nothing on them to indicate they had committed the breakin and they denied all knowledge of the crime, they were released.

However, Campbell continued his investigation and found a box of tools hidden in an alley near the building One of the tools was used to break into the building he found, and the box came from the home of one of the boys, he discovered.

Confronted with this new evidence yesterday the boys admitted entering the building taking the the money as well as damaging a bowling ball polisher, and two pin ball machines, Campbell said.

Marsox Move To Newark for Two Games

Through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

FIRST NIGHTER. Several seasons ago there was a musical on Broadway entitled, "Very Warm For May," written by Jerome Kern. In the curtain raiser of the O-I League here Tuesday night it might have been entitled, "Awfully Cold for April." And one might go on to add, with the theatrical theme, that Marsox followers found little to sing about nor did the young men who wear Marion uniforms know their script.

Manager Elmer Yoter's crew showed plenty of power at the plate, but their base running left the men in the press box half expecting them to try to steal first base from second. One runner got a delayed start from third base and was thrown out at the plate on a fly to deep right field when he failed to slide. Another hit one to the farthest part of Lincoln Park and was thrown out at third. Another overslid the bag on a triple—. And so it went with our Marsox on the opener.

DON'T DESPAIR. All of which is not too far below par, however, for opening day. Last year's outfit was anything but world beaters in the early part of the season, but went on to cop the flag and playoffs.

Yoter was unworried after the game. He knows the team needs replacements, especially pitchers, and they figure on getting help from Boston. Fans thought the Marsox looked slow afoot, but it was only a comparison made between the present team and last year's champs they held. Fellows like Peppy LaMonica, and Tom Umphlett, Bobby Guttilla, don't come along every season.

With 139 games still to go on the schedule, plenty can happen.

GOODBYE COMPLEX. Tonight the Yotermen move to Newark where they found it near impossible to win in the early stages last season. When Elmer took over here as replacement for George Susce, the players had a complex that they couldn't win in Newark's Arnold Park.

It was the Marsox ability to overcome that complex that brought Marion its first pennant. In the playoffs the local crew rose up to smite the once-vaulted Yanks twice in their home park.

The Newark club is off to a good start again this season and with the New York Bombers as backers figure on providing stiff competition again. Bill Lege, the little shortstop with the strong arm, is back.

PRESS BOX TALK. Yoter's wife has joined him here and Elmer is desperately looking for quarters. If you have a place available he will greatly appreciate it . . . Big Marvin Stendel, Marsox first sacker, reminds observers of Max Ross, who was here last season. The husky chunker is very fast for a big man . . . Bob Penny, opening day hurler, moved here from Toledo and his wife has joined him in their trailer home . . . Workmen have done a fine job in getting Lincoln Park in top shape. . .

STRONGER ANIMAL. The Moms in the Mom and Pop Bowling League at Marion Recreation showed up the Pops recently by posting higher scores. Alyce Hyams had a 219-573 for the Moms while the best the men could do was rolled by Gene Martin with a 214-553 total.

PALMER INKS PACT

CLEVELAND, April 26—(AP)—Tackle Derrell Palmer has signed his third contract with the Cleveland Browns, the pro football champions announced today. Coach Paul Brown also announced the signing of Rudy Cernoch, Northwestern University tackle

Indians Play Indianapolis In Exhibition

INDIANAPOLIS, April 26—(AP)—The red hot Cleveland Indians go back into action here tonight in an exhibition tilt with the club Manager Al Lopez formerly piloted—the Indianapolis Indians.

Indianapolis fans undoubtedly welcome the opportunity to see the likeable "Senor" with his first place charges, but the game wasn't arranged for that charitable purpose.

A quirk in the American League schedule gave the Clevelanders four idle days this week and Lopez is anxious to keep them in top shape.

One of his biggest headaches in pitchers. Six of them haven't even this respect is the secondary thrown in combat since the season started and two others, Bob Chakales and George Zuverink, have appeared only briefly.

No. 5 Man

Steve Gromek, although the No. 5 man on the mound staff and the club's chief relief hope, is one of those who have been watching the games from the bench. In desperation, he asked for tonight's assignment and Lopez consented.

The club will remain here for a workout tomorrow and then move to St. Louis for a three-game series with the Browns. One game will be played Saturday and two on Sunday.

As Lopez has it planned, Lemon will hurl Saturday and Early Wynn and Mike Garcia Sunday. That was the same order used last weekend in the series with the Browns in Cleveland.

The club will then return home for an invasion by the eastern teams.

Although yesterday was an off day, Lopez kept his Tribesmen busy in their big Lakefront Stadium in Cleveland.

"Just call me Simon Legree," he grinned. "We've got to keep in shape. These offdays so early are no good. They can wipe out everything we've been able to accomplish up to now."

And so the entire squad worked out for several hours, running, throwing and hitting.

It takes about 250 pounds of coal to make five auto tires and tubes.

Bus Accident To Giants Prevents Last Night's Tilt

By JOHN SHORT

The Marion Red Sox are scheduled to open a two-game stand at Newark tonight after last night's game at Lincoln Park was postponed when the Springfield Giants' bus was involved in a minor accident near Springfield.

The bus accident slightly injured three of the Giant players. Manager Andy Gilbert, Shortstop Henry Bronder and Pitcher Victor Sepchuk. The other players were shaken up but unhurt. The accident occurred 12 miles northeast of Springfield when the bus left the highway and plowed into a ditch.

The bus was enroute to Marion at the time.

Southpaw Dick Tarys or Alex "Bobo" Salerno probably will draw the pitching assignment against the Yankees tonight.

Two Straight

Newark has registered two straight wins over Lima and currently is leading the Ohio-Indiana Loop.

Following games at Newark tonight and Friday, the Marsox return to home pastures at Lincoln Park Saturday night to meet Lima. Lima will remain for a twinbill Sunday and Richmond will come in for two games on Monday and Tuesday.

Yoter had indicated no change in the lineup tonight after Springfield trounced the league champions, 10-2, in the opener here Tuesday night.

Prexies Lead Lima Before "Rains Came"

Harding held a 3-1 lead over Lima Central yesterday afternoon when rain halted the contest after two innings.

The Prexies posted their three runs in the top of the second on two walks, two Lima errors, a long outfield fly, a single and a double steal. Eddie Morse, Harding pitcher, was making his first appearance on the mound for the Prexies.

The team's next appearance will be in the district Class A tournament at Columbus Monday afternoon when they meet Newark.

O.W.U. Relays Set Saturday

Four Marion Area Teams To Participate

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., April 26—A "streamlined" field of Ohio's top track teams gathers here Saturday for the tewntieth running of the Ohio Wesleyan High School Relays.

Forty-three squads with 690 individual entries make the 1951 classic the smallest in recent years. The "A" division led by defending champ Cleveland East Tech, includes 18 teams and 335 individuals, while "B" paced by '50 winners, Salem Oak Harbor and Poland Seminary, has 25 schools and 355 tracksters.

"Bad weather," said George E. Gauthier, Wesleyan's athletic director and originator of the big meet, "seems to have held down the number of entries, but all of the strong teams are in to make it a more select group."

Last year there were 69 schools represented by 698 contestants. Record entry list was the 1617-man field from 87 schools.

Upper Sandusky with four men entered is the only area school taking part in the Class A running. In the Class B division are: Richwood, 7; Marysville, 17; and Harpster, 7.

A.B.C. Competition Proving Stiff

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 26—(AP)—A Minneapolis bowling team fired one of the highest games in the 48-year history of the American Bowling Congress last night—but failed to land among the leaders.

The Mitby-Sather Furniture quint posted a sensational 1,103 total in the five-man event. It was the second highest score since the tournament was resumed after World War II and the 25th highest in the A. B. C.'s history.

The Minneapolis keglers got off to a weak start, getting only 831 and they ended with a 2,855 total. That wasn't even the best series of the night. The top score was 2,932 by the Sports Bowl five of St. Louis. And that was 18 pins short of 10th place.

Walt Disney, the cartoon motion picture producer, once sold magazines, newspapers and other things as a "butcher" on trains between Chicago and St. Louis.

Four Girls On Armory Grapple Card Tonight

Tarzan Paul Orth and Roland Meeker will meet in tonight's headline wrestling bout at the armory after three girl matches.

The first of three women's bouts will pit Elvira Snodgrass against Joyce Ford in a 30-minute opener. Ann Stanley and Dot Dotson will meet in another 30-minute bout. The winners will be matched against the losers in a 60-minute tag team affair.

Extra Base Hits Needed For Red Win

CINCINNATI, April 26—(AP)—It took a lot of extra base hitting but the Cincinnati Reds are back in the winning department.

It sounds a bit strange that three home runs, two triples and a double plus three singles could leave a team in a spot where it had to stagger in with a victory. That's what happened last night, however, as the Reds beat Chicago, 4 to 3.

To make it all the more confusing, the lad who brought the victory was Cincinnati's No. 1 boy in spring training and an utter flop up to the eighth inning of last night's game.

Ted Kluszewski had had only seven hits in 32 times at bat when he faced Paul Minner with Joe Adcock on base he belted one into the right field bleachers.

Before that, Kluszewski, like a lot of other Redlegs, had left a flock of runners on base.

The Reds, who now face a long road trip East, started Howard Fox. He gave up all of the Chicago runs. Bud Byerly relieved but it was Ewell Blackwell who got credit for the triumph.

As the Reds headed East, the word was out that efforts again were being made to locate an outfielder.

Two of those mentioned as being sought were Wally Westlake and Ted Beard of Pittsburgh. Westlake has been mentioned before but the name of the quiet Beard, who can hit a long ball and who is fleet afoot, was heard for the first time.

Cincinnati bosses insisted, however, they were not interested in giving up any front line pitchers.

The first air combat occurred in World War I when a British pilot flew over a German plane and shot at it with a revolver.

Former O-I Hurler Stars for Toledo

By The Associated Press

The toast of Toledo today was Billy Hoeft, an 18-year-old lad from Wisconsin, who hurled in the O-I League for Richmond last season.

Young Bill southpawed a seven-hit job last night before 1,607 delighted Toledo fans to give the Mud Hens a 3-2 verdict over Milwaukee. The victory, Toledo's sixth in eight starts, shoved the club back atop the American Association standings by a ½ game margin over the Brewers.

Kansas City beat Columbus 5-4 in a 17-inning game that lasted three hours and 59 minutes. Bob Marquis homered in the 17th for the clincher off 23-year-old Herb Moford.

In the only other game Louisville copped its second decision in eight starts with a 10-7 victory over Minneapolis.

St. Paul's game at Indianapolis was rained out.

Marion Driver Placed On Honor List

Hugh Bell of Marion has been singled out by the United States Trotting Association among 50 harness drivers for honors today in granting new 1951 driving licenses, The United Press reported today.

Bell was placed on the honor list.

The association honored the top-winning drivers among the nation's 3,200 active sulky pilots by issuing new licenses numbered one through 50 to the leading dash winners of the preceding campaign.

License number one goes to John Simpson of Chester, S. C., who topped the list in 1950 with 111 winning rides. Trailing him in the top five were Del Miller, Meadow Lands, Pa., with 103 wins; Joe O'Brien, Canada, 103. Harry Burright, Mendota, Ill. 95, and Bill Harvey of Canada 92.

Seven other Ohioans were on the honor list: "Doc" McMillen of London and Wayne (Curly) Smart of Delaware were among the top ten.

McMillen drove 92 winners, good for sixth place and Smart, now training private stable for the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., registered 84 wins and finished ninth nationally; Ernie Smith and Eddie Cobb of Washington, C. H.; Bell; Forest Edward, Centerburg; Bob Plaxton, Canton; and Roy Riegle, Greenville.

Too Early Pennant Talk for Durocher

Cards Surprise—Giants Disappoint In Early Stage of League Standing

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's wrong with this picture?

Tom Poholsky pitches St. Louis Cards into first place—New York Giants sink into cellar with seventh straight loss.

This is the year the weary old Cards were supposed to fade away. Wasn't their fifth place finish of last year the tipoff? With Manager Marty Marion on the inactive list, they were sure to be left in the starting gate.

Pennant talk flooded the Giants training camp at St. Petersburg. Leo Durocher had each of his pitchers go the route in two practice games to get ready for a fast start.

Nothing Sure

But nothing is sure in baseball as Giant fans sadly are discovering. Nothing Durocher does works. The hitters don't hit, the fielders don't field. Even his ace, Larry Jansen, has lost his last two starts.

There is near panic in the Polo Grounds as the Giants stumble home for a series with Boston and a trip to Brooklyn before the western teams move in.

And St. Louis reflects enthusiasm for the stout complete game pitching of Poholsky, Max Lanier and Harry Brecheen who have allowed the enemy a total of two runs in the last 27 innings.

Marion was sure about Poholsky in Florida. As sure as a freshman manager can be about a rookie. He pitched him opening day, passing over the big names on his staff. Poholsky lost the opener but vindicated Marion's judgment last night with his two-hit 4-0 shutout of Pittsburgh.

MARTY MARION

Solly Hemus, Marion's shortstop replacement, drove home the first run and scored the second. Enos Slaughter nicked Cliff Chambers for his first homer in the sixth.

Tight in Pinches

Ken Heintzelman snuffed out Giants in the pinches to pitch Philadelphia past New York, 2-1. He gave eight hits and walked six but left 12 stranded. Twice the Giants loaded the bases with only one out.

Although Larry Jansen gave up only five hits, the Phils took full advantage of them. Richie Ashburn's single following Eddie Waitkus' leadoff double in the first brought a run. Hamner's double drove in Del Ennis who singled in the fourth.

The old home run ball, a Brooklyn Dodger hoodoo for years, rose up again to cost them a ball game. Sam Jethroe hit one into the seats with one on and two out in the ninth for a 6-5 edge over reliefer Clyde King. Just like Sid Gordon did the day before in an earlier inning off reliefer Carl Erskine. Vern Bickford was the winner.

Ted Kluszewski, deep in an early spring slump, snapped out of it with a two-run homer in the eighth for Cincinnati's 4-3 edge over the Chicago Cubs.

Win for Blackwell

Ewell Blackwell, working on relief, picked up win No. 1 at Paul Minner's expense.

Spec Shea, New York Yankee star of 1947, was the big news in the American League with a four-hit, 4-0 shutout of Philadelphia. The big righthander walked five but left 10 A's stranded.

Billy Johnson had a hand in all four Yank runs with a double, single and walk. Three times the A's loaded the bases as they ran their scoreless string to 18.

The Chicago White Sox split two with St. Louis, winning, 8-6, but losing, 7-4, in the second game. The Browns had lost 13 straight, including nine spring exhibitions, to the Sox before they won the second for Reliefer Ned Garver.

Al Zarilla and Eddie Robinson of the Sox and Ken Wood and Jim Delsing of the Browns homered in the opener won by Dick Littlefield over Duane Pillette.

Fight Over Compulsory UMT Waged

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—An angry legislative tug-of-war over compulsory military training stretched into its third round today. There were no signs of an early agreement.

"At the rate we are going the MacArthur-Truman dispute may be settled first," one lawmaker told a reporter. He asked that he not be named.

Involved are extension and expansion of the present draft law, which expires July 9, and a future long range program of universal military training for most of the nation's young men.

Participating in today's session, behind closed doors, were five senators and seven representatives.

They are the conference committee named to iron out the many differences between the Senate and House over the draft-UMT program.

So far only one point has been settled. At yesterday's session the conferees agreed that future draftees should serve 24 months, instead of the present 21. The Senate had voted for 24 months; the House 26. Pentagon leaders had asked 27.

Both Senate and House conferees have confided that the big dispute centers around the military training.

About 700 were present for the afternoon presentation, while nearly 1,200 attended the play performance in the evening. The play was under the direction of William Calvert, speech instructor at Harding.

Written by Frank Gilbreth and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey, the comedy, which was made into a hit movie last year, tells the story of every day happenings in the lives of Mother and Father Gilbreth and their 12 children, whose ages range from nine to 17. Father Gilbreth is a terrific efficiency expert and it is his firm conviction that what works in the factory will work at home.

Because of his old fashioned ideas, he can't seem to understand high school girls. Anne, the eldest daughter, rebels against her father's ideas, but he just continues to push ahead with better organization for his large and delightful family.

Father Gilbreth's methods of raising a family provided the humor, but as it resulted there was an important meaning and reason for it all.

Playing the role of Father Gilbreth was Howard Ballinger. Phyllis Huffman was seen as Mother Gilbreth, and portraying Anne, the oldest girl in the family, was Nancy Rutherford.

Others In Cast

Others in the cast were Mary Hamor as Ernestine, the second daughter of the Gilbreth family, Nancy Gilmore as Martha, the third daughter. Dan Andrews as Frank Jr., the oldest boy, Bill Sager as Bill, Carol Teitlebaum as Lillian and Bob Keggan as Fred, other children, Max Hart and Fred Eyster as Dan and Jackie, respectively, the two youngest boys in the family, Gary Snouffer as Dr. Burton, Suzanne Terzo as Miss Brill, the school teacher, Lee Henninger as Larry, Anne's boy friend, Joe Sedelmaier as Joe Scales, the cheerleader, and Etha Ludwig as the maid.

Music between acts of the play was provided by the Harding orchestra, directed by Homer Huffman. Student director for the play was Jill Pluchel.

Record Budget In Hands Of State Senate

House Figure Tops Lausche's Estimate By $6 Million

COLUMBUS, April 26—(AP)—The state's financial problems today were dropped in the lap of the Republican-dominated state senate.

The House yesterday approved 118-9 a budget to pay the state's expenses for the next two years. It totaled $735,373,627, more than $6,000,000 above Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's "rock-bottom" estimate.

The House also passed 102-19 the Senate-approved Mechem sales tax bill to bring an estimated $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 more into the state treasury in the next two years.

House action on the sales tax bill came after the Republican majority beat down all Democratic attempts to revise it.

Senate Favorable

There have been broad hints the Senate will be in a mood to spend more than the House, particularly for schools. The budget bill as approved by the House is a record high.

But the Ohio Education Association has been putting on heavy pressure for a bigger increase than the House apparently is willing to grant. The OEA-sponsored teachers' salary schedule would cost the state about $37,500,000 more in subsidies than the schools got in the last two years.

The House raised the ante by $15,000,000 more than the 1949-50 legislature appropriated for school purposes and $16,500,000 more than the state actually paid out for school subsidies.

Some senators have been asking for an increase as high as $20,000,000.

Poor Relief

The House-approved budget is $3,103,000 higher than the figure recommended by the House finance committee. The new increase was granted to permit the state to match local government spending for poor relief between Aug. 1, 1949, and July 1, 1950. The state fell behind by that much in its matching program in that period. Since, however, it has kept up its share.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Editor of The Star: Now is the time for Marion to plan for the future of our new high school—1965 is not quite 15 years in the future. An assembly hall holding just 1,600 indeed! How long do they think that will be adequate?

People of Marion must make the school planning committee realize that it will be years before there will be another high school built. It will take just a little more material and just a little more money, considering to make it larger and more adequate for future needs of Marion.

Harding High has over 1,000 pupils this year, and it fairly bulges, there are so many. (It was never large enough, not even the first year used). Every classroom is a home room. To hold an assembly they have to migrate to the Palace Theater. Do they want to have to do that before the new school is 15 years old?

Why not at least plan for an assembly hall holding at the very least 2,000? Then when they have games they can plan on having a fair-sized crowd. One holding 1,600 will take care of only the students and teachers with no allowance for any others.

We have never had an auditorium big enough to take care of even medium-sized crowds, let alone large ones. The new Colisum is the only building in Marion that has a future ahead of it. Someone really had the right idea there.

Why not make the best ues of the money, as we will not be able to build another high school for years to come. Instead of a fancy small building, build a large plain building which is adequate, sensible and suitable and fitted to the future as well as present needs for Marion. That is the best and only way to get the most out of the money spent.

Before we are committed to any plan for the school, now is the time to wake up to the facts and do something about it. It will very soon be too late.

Yours for an adequate new high school of suitable size and plan for the future.

For Marion Training School

Marion Firm One of Low Bidders on Powerhouse

One of the six low bidders for contracts to build a powerhouse at the Marion Training School was a Marion electrical contracting firm, the Triple Service Electric Co.

Its bid of $95,675 was lowest for the contract to put in electrical equipment at the training school's new powerhouse. The Associated Press reported from Columbus today.

Low bids for the powerhouse totaled $916,613, Public Works Director S. O. Linzell said. Bids were opened yesterday.

The Fred De Bra Co. of Cincinnati was low bidder for boilers, stokers and mechanical equipment with a bid of $475,801.

The AMG Construction of Columbus was low for the general contract with a bid of $304,307.

Low On Plumbing

Reliance Heating and Air Conditioning Co. of Cleveland was low bidder for the plumbing contract with a bid of $17,000.

The International Chimney Co of Buffalo, N. Y., was low with a bid of $23,830 for a chimney for the plant.

No contracts have been awarded yet and these apparent low bids still are subject to checking by public works engineers, Director Linzell said.

These contractors were bidding on work on the power house unit only which constitutes the first of three programs of construction to be built at the training school.

$3,500,000 for School

The State Welfare Department has on hand a $3,500,000 appropriation for expansion of the training and for replacement of the present wartime built wooden buildings with permanent structures.

When plans perfected by State Welfare Director John H. Lamneck have been carried out the training school will have had all its present buildings replaced with new ones and facilities will be expanded to where the school can accommodate a permanent enrollment of 350 inmates.

At present inmates number about 75, varrying with the number who have been paroled or who have finished their sentences.

2 Men Slug Woman, Flee With $13,000

CLEVELAND, April 26—(AP)—Police today sought two men who slugged Miss Mary Jerman, 37, and escaped with $13,000 she had just drawn from a bank..

The robbery took place in broad daylight on a downtown street. The bandits fled in a car.

Miss Jerman told police the men attacked her yesterday while she was taking the money from a Cleveland Trust Co. branch bank to Jerman's Cafe, less than two blocks away. She operates the cafe and needed the money to cash pay checks.

The taller robber hit her in the face, knocking her to the sidewalk, and the other snatched a paper bag which held the money, she said.

Adult Swim Classes To Be Held at Y

The Y.M.C.A. announced plans today for an adult "Learn to Swim" campaign to be conducted during the month of May. During the past several weeks an adult men's class with a limited enrollment has been formed but is still open to interested persons. Despite the limited facilities of the Y.M.C.A. pool, it has proven adequate in the teaching of swimming skills.

Classes will be conducted in the evening with a limit of seven men to be assigned to each hourly period. Persons interested may secure additional information by contacting Vern Miller, athletic director of the Marion Y.M.C.A.

Instruction for men's classes will be conducted by Art Haas, general secretary, Marvin Ludwig, boys' work secretary, and Mr. Miller.

A "Learn to Swim" program for women will be conducted on Tuesday evening of each week.

Tips From Danish Kitchen

TOP FLIGHT FAVORITE . . . Viggo Hansen, chef de cuisine of Scandinavian Airlines, prepares chervil soup.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Denmark set her best table recently to show nine visiting American food editors all her favorite dishes. From the dining room we went into the kitchens to learn many tricks of preparation, and from there to the farms and factories, to see just how Danish foods are produced.

My first taste of real Danish pastry came aboard a Scandinavian Airlines plane when we breakfasted en route on fruit juice, omelette with some of Denmark's fine ham, and Copenhagen-baked pastry flown to meet us at Prestwick, Scotland.

If our "Danish" pastry is ever going to come up to the original it will have to be lighter, flakier, and more delicate in flavor!

ONE OF THE FLIGHT dishes that made a big hit with American appetites was Chervil Soup —concocted by Viggo Hansen, Danish chef de cuisine of Scandinavian Airlines' New York Commissary, who was on board to supervise the food service. Simple enough to make in your own kitcheh now that spring is here and herb gardens are getting started, Chef Hansen's special recipe calls for 1 large carrot, ½ head celery, 1 leek, 3½ ounces butter, 3½ ounces flour, 3 quarts veal or chicken broth, 2 ounces chervil, and 1 cup cream. You cut up the vegetables and simmer them in the butter, mix in the flour well, stir in the broth, and cook slowly for about 1½ hours; strain, add the finely chopped chervil and the light cream, and gently reheat.

About as big as Vermont and New Hampshire together, Denmark always has produced a lot of milk; in recent years she has upped her cheese production so much that much of her Blue cheese, another fine cheese called Samoe, and some Brie and other varieties are being sent to the United States. Rich and creamy, with blue-green veins of mold that are treasure nets of flavor, Danish Blue adds zest to salads, sandwiches, and spreads, and is delicious with fruit or crackers.

AT A SEAFOOD SUPPER given by the Ministry of Fisheries and The Greenland Department of Fisheries, I tasted at least 50 different fish dishes and fish products. Danish ways of preparing mussel and eel struck me, since they would be sure to win new American converts to these economical seafoods available here. The mussels were steamed with herbs and spices, coated with flour, dipped in lightly beaten eggs, rolled in fine bread crumbs, and deep-fat fried.

Luncheon at the American Embassy, given by our able Ambassador to Denmark, Mrs. Eugenie Anderson, offered a chance to judge the Danish Embassy cook's interpretation of some of our American dishes. The menu started off with a fine-flavored tomato soup with tiny croutons and went on to chichen pie and fruit salad much as we prepare them. But when I tasted the perfect butter-rich rolls and biscuits served, it was easy to detect the fine pastry hand of a Dane.

State Officer Guest At LaRue Legion Auxiliary Dinner

Special to The Star

LARUE, April 26—Mrs. Marie Moore, of Zanesville, secretary of the American Legion Auxiliary, department of Ohio, was honored at a special dinner meeting of the Auxiliary to Phillipi-Clement Post 101, Monday at the Legion Memorial Hall.

Approximately 60 members and guests were present for the turkey dinner served by the Auxiliary, after which the guest of honor spoke on the aims of the American Legion and Auxiliary including care of veterans and disabled veterans in hospitals, child welfare and citizenship and community service. Mrs. Moore was accompanied to LaRue by Miss Ann Eshelman, also of Zanesville, who is the executive secretary of the Auxiliary-sponsored Girl's State. Corsages were presented to the two guests by Dr. Harry A. Hoopes on behalf of Phillipi Clement Post.

Mrs. Donald Greenwood served as toastmistress and presented Mrs. Moore with a gift from the Auxiliary. The table decorations, in a patriotic theme, were in charge of Mrs. Richard Roux and Mrs. John Ridgway. Mrs. George Oberdier was chairman of the kitchen committee, assisted by Mrs. Dwight Sager, Mrs. Willis Bowles, Mrs. Vernie Gamble, and Mrs. Lois Roux. Misses Arlene Blue, Martha Hoagland, Barbara Benson, and Lynda Virden assisted in serving. A reception in the Post Hall preceded the dinner.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

At my whispered plaint, Dicky gripped my hand hard, and held it tight until I looked up at him with a forced smile.

"I'm all right now," I said, and he relaxed his grip, but pushed me down gently on the window seat. Then he shot a glance at his mother on the coach. From her mouth came the unmistakable sound of a gentle snore, and Dicky's smile was mischievously tender, while the four boys, I knew, had difficulty in controlling the laughter which a snore always brings to young people.

"She's dead to the world," Dicky said, "and we can talk, although in muted tones. Yes, dear heart,"—he addressed the misery in my eyes—"the bars are back on the windows."

After that terrible time when Georges was in such danger, and we thought Carlotta was a spy, Father said we never would have to have them up again," I said.

"Listen," he said gently, "but he didn't anticipate his present problem. I myself, think he is overestimating the danger to young Peter although I know that he cannot over-estimate the importance of trapping that man who is his chief suspect. But I do not see how the man could ever connect young Peter with what has happened. So well did young Peter's father keep his secret, that no one ever dreamed he was married, much less that he had a child. He had discovered the danger of ever letting any detail of his private life come to the attention of this bloated spider in his web."

His voice held a bitterness unusual with him, and I knew he had seen the surprise in my face when he spoke again.

"I see red whenever I think of that devil," he said. "There are all sorts of spies, but this one, forcing subordinates into positions where suspicion of his own actions fall on them, then accumulating false proof of their treason, and either having them executed for their supposed crimes, or driving them to suicide to escape execution, is the world's worst super-devil. And when you think of his ruthless extermination of every relative of the men he has done to death to save himself, and carry on his treachery, you long to get your own hands on him, and choke the life out of him, slowly, so that he will suffer for a long time."

There was such crass savagery in his usually careless jocular voice that I shivered, although I felt a response to it in my own soul. But when I looked at my father and cousins and saw the same impotent rage in their eyes, I was so filled with boyish laughter I shivered again at the height of terror against brutal oppression which has overwhelmed us three times in less than half a century.

Dicky saw the shiver, and put his hand caressingly upon my arm. But although I let it stay there I lifted my head and faced him steadily.

"Don't mistake me, please. I shudder involuntarily at your rage, but please believe that I share it."

"At a girl, Mums," my young son murmured approvingly, and his father smiled at him.

"You'll always find your mother present and answering 'no' her name one hundred percent."

He told Junior, and I felt as if my face were burning.

"I wanted you to see these bars," Dicky went on, "so that you would realize that the windows of every possible room or hall leading to our quarters, is protected in this way. But, listen! There's the knocker!"

District Sheep Assn. Banquet Held at Ashley

One hundred and fifty members and friends of the Delaware-Morrow-Marion Sheep Improvement Association attended the annual meeting and lamb banquet at Ashley School April 20.

Rev. Norman Somerville of Galion was the principal speaker and stressed the necessity of thinking straight on all of our local and national problems and living fully to achieve the ideals of America.

C. F. Fliekinger, fieldman for the Producers Livestock Cooperative Marketing Association, presented the summary of the Ashley Lamb Pool for 1950-51. Sixteen pools were held with 4,262 sheep and lambs sold. An increase of six percent in the number of double blue lambs marketed this past year.

There was a marked increase in price and value of the sheep sold. The range in price of double blue wool lambs was from $29.00 to $43.00. The Ashley pool operated later in the season than most pools in Ohio and it also handled more wool sheep than most pools.

The average weight of all lambs sold was 86.4 pounds and the average price per cwt. was $30.00 with approximately $26.00 as the total value per head.

Frank Jackson, chairman of the association, was in charge of the program assisted by S. G. Hildebrand, vice chairman. The following directors were elected for three years terms: Delaware County, Hugh Bishop of Radnor and Ray Van Sickle of Sunbury; Morrow County, Glen Guiher of Cardington, Alpha Lepp of Edison and Harmon Shipman of Mt. Gilead; Marion County, Edward Heimlich of Cardington.

Miss Geraldine Harris of Marengo gave a program of acrobatic dancing as the entertainment feature of the program and the dinner was served by the ladies of Ashley Grange.

P.-T.A.'s To Lead Drive For School Bond Issue

Parents-Teachers Associations of Marion s 14 elementary and junior high schools with a total membership of approximately 6,000 will lead the campaign promoting the passage of the $2 900,000 bond issue for a new senior high school and for the expansion and rehabilitation of existing school facilities

Starting next Monday P-T A members of all 14 school associations will begin a door-to-door campaign of the entire Marion School District, both inside and outside the corporation limits

During this campaign they will distribute copies of a 15-page booklet explaining why the $2-900 000 school bond issue should be passed at the May 8 primary elections and what the money will be used for if the bond issue is passed.

Need More Classrooms

The booklet points out that 30 new classrooms will be needed to handle 1,000 additional children who will enter the first grade of school during the next five years They will need 20 percent more elementary school classroom space to accommodate them The school system does not have this space now and it must be provided if these children are to receive the education they are entitled to get and for which their parents are already paying taxes.

Here is how the school board plans to alter existing school facilities if the school bond issue passes so old and unsafe buildings now in use may be eliminated while needed elementary classrooms can be provided

Will Become Junior High

Harding High will be converted to a junior high school after the new senior high school is built Its 28 classrooms will be more than adequate to relieve Vernon High's 15 classrooms which it will replace

Vernon will then be more an elementary school and will absorb the grade school children who would have attended Forest Lawn and Greenwood These latter two schools, both old and prohibitive in maintenance costs, will be torn down Between them Forest Lawn and Greenwood have only 12 classrooms

When these moves have been completed, the board of education will then consider the problem of adding additional class rooms to existing grade schools where needed.

The booklet explains that Harding High School is so overcrowded now, handling 950 students in a building designed to serve only 700, that it is literally "bursting at the seams" It further explains that Harding High has far too little space for physical education, no provisions or facilities for art or music rooms and no place for school assemblies, plays and concerts, all of which are now held in the Palace Theater, no lunch room for students, and overcrowded classrooms now with the certainty of larger enrollments in the near future.

Other immediate needs of the school system, as pointed out in the booklet, are a lunch room for students at Edison Junior High and a physical education and assembly room at the new State Street Junior High.

The booklet explains that all these needs can be met by passing the $2,900,000 school bond issue at the polls May 8

The new bond issue will cost the property owning taxpayer approximately six cents per week per $1,000 of valuation on his property.

The attractively bound and illustrated booklet has been prepared by the Marion Board of Education in cooperation with the P-T A 's of the city.

Your Money Problems

Personal Affairs Call For Sound Management

By WESLEY DAVIS
(Professor of Economics, University of Houston)

YOUR money can't buy happiness. You can't take your money with you. Money is strictly a material thing. That it has any value at all is due to its being a means to an end. It is the means for acquiring goods and services, but apart from its power to buy these things, money is utterly useless.

Let's not overemphasize the importance of money. But then, let's not underemphasize the importance, either. Money cannot be ignored. Even the doctor and the clergyman must reckon with it, or else they cannot continue to serve mankind They (and each of us) live in a business world where the man who keeps his financial affairs in order has the respect both of himself and others.

What does this mean for each of us? It means that we cannot (should not) abandon sound principles of financial management, even though the world may seem to be falling about our ears. War and rumors of war will give way to peace some day, and if not—we still want to live as best we can. Inflation will have done its work eventually, and we may be worrying about deflation and depression; but in any case—we still want to live as best we can.

MAKE YOUR financial plans, therefore, as best you can in the light of each new contingency (catastrophe, if you wish) as it appears. This is all we can do. Despite our best efforts to control our surroundings, it seems that the weather, the war, taxes and such are beyond the immediate control of the individual.

We can't control them, but we can adjust them. We should change our financial plans in any manner that they require This is not overstressing the importance of money. It is merely recognizing that money, like fire, is a great power for good or evil. Money, like fire, must be controlled.

But we would be overstressing the importance of money indeed if we assumed that good financial management in itself should be a person's over-all goal. Good management by itself will bring you neither happiness, contentment, nor peace of mind. Good management is merely a thing that must be actively sought, day and night continuously, because each of us desperately needs it as a stepping stone toward contentment, happiness, or peace of mind—whichever one we accept as our major goal in life.

AND THEN, as for actual peace of mind—the philosophers tell us we find it only when we let it find us. We find happiness only when we stop trying to squeeze it out of life. We find contentment in the very things we trampled on as we strove vainly to find contentment.

If this little series has helped anyone smooth some rough spots, financial or otherwise, I am glad.

Miss Lash Named Head of Church Service Guild

Miss LaVern Lash was elected president of the Epworth Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild Tuesday night at her home on Clover avenue. Miss Marjorie Williams was elected vice president; Miss Helen Warwick, recording secretary; Miss Marjorie Weiser, corresponding secretary; and Miss Reta VanMeter, treasurer.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Thelma Wilcox, a supervisor of week-day religious education in the public schools, introduced by Miss Lydia Ebel. She quoted figures on the number of children in this country receiving no religious training whatsoever. The number 25 years ago, among children 3 to 23, was approximately 17 million, increasing to about 30 million today, she said, quoting authoritative sources for these figures. She told of the work of the two week-day religious education teachers in Marion among the more than 1,500 third through sixth grade pupils in the public schools.

Mrs. Lloyd E. Lutz presided for business, and Mrs. Samuel McDougal led devotions. The nominating committee was composed of Miss Elizabeth Pace, Miss Mary Heininger, and Miss Clara Alice Wilson. A report on the district meeting held Sunday at Lima was heard. Miss Mary K. Miley assisted the hostess in serving. It was announced that officers will be installed in May by Miss Elda Shafer of Lima, district secretary. For the next meeting, Mrs. George Black will be hostess, assisted by Miss Weiser and Mrs. McDougal. Devotions will be by Mrs. Alice Fetter. A panel discussion on "Daily Living" will be by Mrs. Ralph Simpson, Mrs. W. D. McGee and Mrs. Zelda Sweney.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

There's word from Moscow that Russia may take part in the next Olympics . . . all we know is they've been practising weight throwing in Europe for some time.

Nothing ever gets through to us about sports in Russia . . . they should take to have it get out that when two Russian teams meet, one of them has to lose.

And they call every contest a draw because Russians, according to their text books, always win.

We've got a new sport starting here soon . . . it's called wage stabilization and the President has picked he first 18 men, nine on a side.

We've tried this with smaller boards and although wages didn't get stabilized everyone seemed to enjoy the excitement.

Just think what fun we could have in government if we added the British false teeth and free specs program to the rest of our policies.

Shucks MacArthur would be forgotten overnight if our administration could switch the conversation to painless dentistry.

Bucyrus Firm Starts Million Dollar Project

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS April 26 — The Shunk Manufacturing Co one of Bucyrus oldest industries, already is at work filling a $1,000 000 contract to make industrial heat-treating furnaces for the General Electric Co. R F Allen, general manager of the firm, announced.

Mr Allen, a former General Electric Co executive, said the company is expanding its facilities for the manufacture of a broad line of diversified products.

According to company officials the firm is exploring tentatively with army ordnance the possibility of making 105 mm shells here. During World War I, the Hadfield-Penfield Steel Co, now known as the W A Riddell Corp, turned out thousands of 75 mm shells, older residents recalled.

Nervous, Run Down Housewife Now Sings at Her Work

HADACOL Relieves Fatigue and Nervousness When Caused by a Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

It's not easy to get your housework done, be pleasant, when every little noise grates on your nerves. By the end of the day you're so tired, frazzled, and at your wit's end, life seems hardly worthwhile. This is just what happened to Mrs. C. M. Moody, 940 Hinton Street, Petersburg, Virginia. She'd heard about HADACOL, however, heard how it could help nervousness, when due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. She decided to try this wonderful formula and see if it could give her the same help it had so many other folks she knew. The results of this test speak for themselves. Won't you let her tell you about it in her own words?

She says: "I was so nervous and rundown, could not stand the least noise. So, I tried HADACOL, and, after my first large bottle, I am lots better. Thanks to HADACOL I can now sing at my work. I cannot praise HADACOL enough and you bet I recommend HADACOL to all my friends and neighbors. You may use my letter if you like. I will be truly thankful if my letter helps someone else. So, thanks to HADACOL I am feeling fine."

That's how the story goes, over and over again from honest, sincere folks like Mrs. Moody. You just can't doubt what you hear and read about so often. So if you are subject to nervousness, fatigue, that run down feeling, when due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help.

The Next Crisis

GEN. MacARTHUR has been just another resident of New York City since the mammoth demonstration in his honor last Friday.

A new Red offensive in Korea may provide a crisis in the near future, though the country has been assured that the forces of the United States and its token allies will be able to take care of themselves.

The special Senate committee to investigate crime has been continued another four months and its chairmanship will pass from Senator Kefauver of Tennessee to Senator O'Conor of Maryland. But whatever the committee may reveal from now on will be an anticlimax to the sensation it made in New York City.

The RFC investigation has passed into limbo—all except remember the fur coat, which will be more useful to politicians than frustrated watchdogs of the public treasury.

The outcome of the Great Debate over presidential power to send troops abroad without congressional approval is slipping from the memory of all but a few who claim to have understood it but cannot agree.

Price and wage stabilization, vital as prices and wages are, cannot be understood well enough to feed the fires of controversy.

There is an intermission between crises. The shrill voices are temporarily subdued. There is time for tempers to cool off around the edge.

No one knows what the next crisis will be. But no one doubts there will be one along soon. In a country which has learned to depend on emotional surges to hide the humdrum of reality, an existence without another crisis in the offing is unthinkable.

No Alternative for the British

A THOUGHTFUL American can afford to take a long look at British politics—especially at the resignation of Aneurin Bevan.

Bevan is a two-fisted Socialist, the kind of man who refers to his opponents as "vermin." His resignation from Clement Attlee's ministry is generally interpreted as a bid for party control. Attlee is ill; Bevan is feeling fine. And Attlee's government is heading into an economic tornado which may blow its members into oblivion.

This has been raising the hopes of anti-Socialists in Britain and also in the United States, but the hopes are foolish, because the collapse of Clement Attlee's ministry, if it happens, will be no triumph for anti-Socialists.

It will be either an opportunity for the Conservative party, which is committed to socialism in a mild form, or for the more extreme form which Bevan is itching to administer.

There is no alternative for the British. Their party system has deprived them of a free choice. It is exactly the trick which almost was played on American voters when the Republican party was trying to out-deal the New Deal, thereby robbing them of a free choice.

If Bevan ever gets control, there will then arise a more leftish version of socialism to make Attlee knuckle under, just as he is trying to make Attlee knuckle under. Britain eventually will become a one-party dictatorship with nothing to distinguish it from any other police state in which the people no longer have a choice between alternatives.

Who Represents You?

THE spokesmen for union labor's 15,000,000 members represented on the united labor policy committee have stood away from President Truman's new wage stabilization board.

They say they want more time to decide on what terms they will let their six representatives serve on the new 18-member board. One of their terms is generally believed to be the forcing out of Charles E. Wilson as director of defense mobilization.

If top labor can do this it's bosses decide that is what they want to do. Its six representatives on the wage stabilization board are doing just about anything they want them to do. Or they can walk out of it, just as they walked out on the original board, if the other members refuse to go along with the edicts of the united labor policy committee.

Who are the other members?

There are 12 of them. Half representing industry, half representing the public. But industry has no "united industry policy committee" and the public has no "united public policy committee." The 12 members do not really represent anybody. They are in fact only a dozen citizens whose minds will be made up for them by the compact, instructed minority of half a dozen spokesmen for union labor. Either they will take minority dictation, or the minority will walk out and leave the whole question of wage stabilization high and dry.

MacArthur's "Offense"

By David Lawrence

Reported Fired Because He Wrote to a Republican

WASHINGTON

THE STATE of disorganization and disunity in the American government today is indescribably tragic.

The lack of leadership is a manifest obstacle to cooperation even between those elements which favor the same international policy. The White House has failed signally to keep foreign policy out of politics and has accentuated a deep cleavage between the two major parties.

For whether President Truman intended it or not, he has, in effect, decreed that the minority party in America must be prevented from knowing the facts about the government and particularly for the facts about our war operations.

LAWRENCE

Though it will be repeatedly denied, the truth is that the principal offense of General MacArthur was in answering a letter from Republican leader Joseph W. Martin. Apparently members of the armed services hereafter must not answer any letter from Congress except those from Democrats.

Two Democratic senators — Douglas of Illinois and Lehman of New York—take the position that the letter which General MacArthur wrote in answer to one from Representative Martin was an act of military insubordination and was in disregard of the "civil authority" of the United States.

THIS IS A STRANGE view for two men to express who are supposed to be "liberals" and who spend a good deal of their time denouncing the Hitler and Stalin concept of a single political party. Evidently, as Senator Douglas told his constituents, General MacArthur had no right to reply to Mr. Martin's request for his views. Senator Lehman cites the letter to Martin specifically as a ground for dismissal of MacArthur and says thus the "civil authority was challenged."

Evidently the Congress of the United States is not a civil authority—or at least the Republican party isn't a part of it. Yet in Korea the sons of Republicans are being killed, just as are the sons of Democrats.

There is no hope for unity when two important senators adopt the view that it is a violation of the military code of the United States to communicate with members of Congress who happen to be in the minority party and for the latter to make public the letters they write—not on military details, but on broad policy questions.

THE LETTER to Representative Martin was a routine answer to what appeared to be a routine inquiry. General MacArthur had said the same things publicly many times before and also in his official reports. But because the press emphasized the incident, President Truman chose to make an issue of it, though he could just as well have ignored the affair and sent for MacArthur so as to argue out the differences, if possible, in a personal conference.

What is more serious is that there are influential members of the Democratic party who actually believe that America today is and must be governed by a single person. They include in the power of the presidency the right to stifle discussion and they insist, in effect, that members of the armed services are not to be permitted to say anything publicly which is at variance with the "party line" as proclaimed by the President or his advisers.

If the minority part has any assertiveness at all, it will accept the challenge and bring the real issue to the attention of the country. It concerns the fundamental right of the American people to get the truth of what is happening in the making of public policy.

THE AMERICAN people do not even know how MacArthur was dismissed and by whose recommendation. An effort has been made to give the impression that the Joint Chiefs did it. Actually Messrs. Acheson, Rusk and Harriman—the foreign-policy command are primarily responsible for influencing the President to fire MacArthur forthwith. When the congressional committees put every member of the Joint Chiefs on the stand, as they inevitably must, they will learn that there is no record of military insubordination and that differences of policy alone led to the political decision by Mr. Truman to make a change in command in the Far East.

It is because the Democrats have insisted on distorting the issue and have continually tried to pin a "warmonger" label on General MacArthur—very much as the Communists do to most Americans nowadays—that the bitterness on Capitol Hill is increasing instead of diminishing.

Note of Sympathy

By TRUMAN TWILL

TO A PAIR of Good Friends Fixing Up a Little Place in the Country and Who Were Encountered with Their Arms Full of Shrubbery and Packages of Seeds:

You are a little old for this sort of thing, but more power to your back. You will not recover the way you did when you were 20 years younger, though if you do not let yourself get carried away, the exertion will not necessarily be crippling.

Guard against trying to do everything at once. The good earth, of which you have acquired a sizeable chunk, was good before you became a part owner and will be good after your title has been vacated. There is nothing wrong with improving it to the limit of your ability, but do not try to make it over to suit yourself in a jiffy.

Leave something to do next summer, the summer after that and so on. You will be forced to do this anyway by limitations on your time and energy, not to mention your pocketbook. But it will be easier to bear if you admit beforehand that limitations do exist. It will make it easier to flop down in an easy chair and take things easy.

Think twice before doing anything drastic, then let the project simmer on the back of the stove for three days. At the end of that time more than half of what you might have done will no longer seem to be worth doing and most of the residue will have been altered substantially — in your favor. Be on guard particularly against hasty decisions about shrubbery.

Remember always that in nature there are no emergencies—that emergencies are inventions of human beings, especially those who savvy the art of making other human beings get excited so their minds will be impressionable to suggestions. Everything that happens in nature has happened before, not once but thousands of times. This covers floods, droutrs, extreme heat, extreme cold, high winds and lightning. Keep calm. Otherwise, you might as well have resisted the temptation to buy a chunk of the good earth in R.F.D. You could have been excited where you were.

Be on guard against poison ivy, gadgets you do not need, the myth that farmers are unaware of high prices, oat bugs, civet cats, barn swallows, the temptation to buy freak clothing, livestock you will get tired of feeding, boring your friends with anecdotes which will not interest them, rainy weekends, too many picnics, fantastic schemes for making money by raising earthworms or turkeys and too much exposure to the midday sun.

Be on guard, especially, against advice like this. Make your own mistakes and have your own fun in making them! They're your blisters.

Marion County History Brevities

Potatoes, both Irish and sweet, and even squashes and pumpkins, were often baked in ashes. This method of baking, although troublesome, produced a more palatable and apparently more wholesome article than any other method, either ancient or modern. Turkeys and spareribs were sometimes roasted before the fire, suspended by a string, a dish being placed underneath to catch the drippings, which would make a nice gravy.

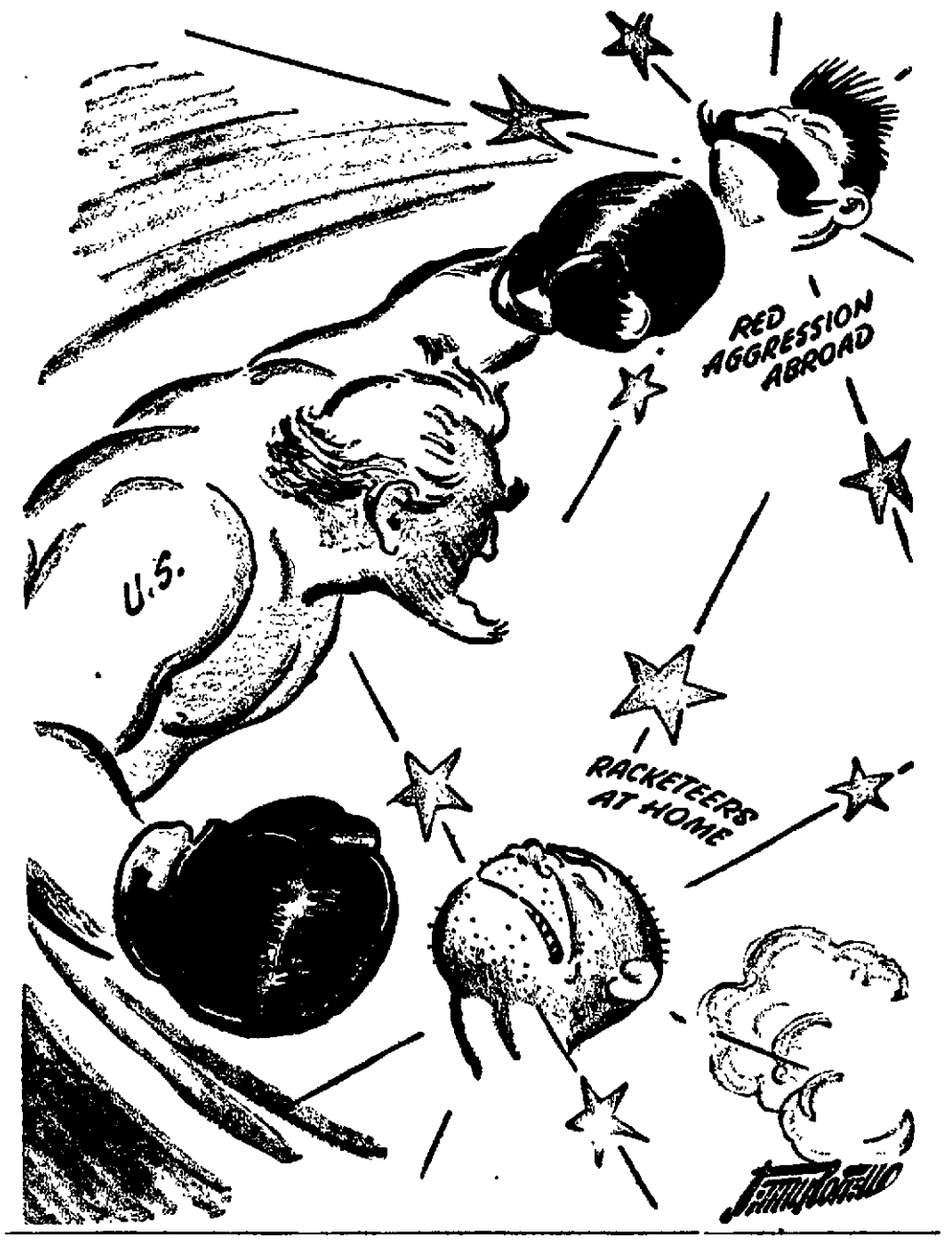
Two-Front War



Bevan Bets Against "Guns and Butter"

By Walter Lippmann

ANEURIN BEVAN and Harold Wilson have made a hot and open political issue of questions which have been quietly and rather languidly discussed for many months. They have been discussed since the early autumn, ever since the decisions and the agreements to rearm the Atlantic nations rapidly and on a big scale.

The center of the discussion has been the official doctrine of the Truman administration, as formulated by Dr. Leon Keyserling and put into practice by Charles E. Wilson, the director of defense mobilization. It is the doctrine that this country can rearm on a large scale in the next three years and at the end of that period, with only comparatively small and passing shortages, have in addition to its military power a "production for normal civilian purposes" which is "higher than before Korea."

LIPPMANN

Among our allies there has been a growing fear that this prodigious result would be achieved only by our taking up, at their expense, an undue proportion of the raw materials of which the supply cannot be increased quickly. They saw us committing ourselves and promising ourselves that in three years we would have the most powerful military establishment in the world and with it also an even higher standard of living than the one we already enjoy.

THEIR FEARS crystalized when they read Wilson's report to the President on April 1, the report which is called "Building America's Might." That report, which was such agreeable reading in this country, caused a shudder of apprehension—as more and more people heard about it—in Britain and on the continent. I heard one extremely friendly foreigner say: "That is not guns and butter . . . That is guns and the cow."

Right or wrongly—and I am afraid more rightly than wrongly—the Wilson report has been read abroad as being an American production program, determined by purely American considerations, which does not take seriously enough into account the necessity of sharing certain scarce critical raw materials which the Europeans must have if they are to rearm and not to lower dangerously their standard of life.

Bevan and Harold Wilson have staked their political futures, their claim to the leadership of the Labor party and to high office on the belief that "the American government and people have got to choose," as Harold Wilson put it in his speech to the House, "between their partners' defense program on the one hand and their own stockpiling and the level of their own unrestricted civil consumption on the other."

THEY ARE SAYING in effect that they do not believe that the American program—rearmament plus a higher standard of life—can be carried out in America without forcing Britain to choose between rearmament and the maintenance of an already low standard of life.

Bevan and Harold Wilson might be wrong. It is possible that we shall control our own inflationary suction on the world's raw materials, and that we shall restrict and allocate and arrange things so that Britain can rearm, as we are rearming, without tears. But, as politicians who hope to win power on a popular issue, the Britons are betting that there is not going to be enough statesmanship in Washington and in London to master this intricate problem.

We must pray that they will lose their bet. For it is not pleasant to think of the consequences if in our alliance the standard of life is pushed down abroad while it remains up, and even rises, here.

THERE HAVE BEEN, it has seemed to me, two main lines of policy possible. There was the policy we did choose last summer. It was to arm ourselves, to arm the west Europeans, to arm the west Germans, while we fought a land war in Korea, while we encouraged the French to fight a bigger land war than they had been fighting in Indochina, and while we supplied arms and other goods to countries all around the vast periphery of the Soviet orbit.

That was a policy which could be carried out only if we decided upon a policy of national and international deflation of the civilian economy. It was absolutely incompatible with the idea of a rising standard of civilian consumption here and in Europe.

It called for increasing austerity under severe restrictions and heavy regimentation. It was a policy which could be carried out only by very efficient, by deeply dedicated, and by very enlightened governments in Washington, London and Paris.

THE OTHER POLICY was to do first what was necessary, and not to bite off more than the weak governments in Washington and London and Paris could chew. This would have meant that instead of trying to rearm universally and simultaneously we would have rearmed by phases and by priorities.

Instead of trying to arm everybody at once and in all the services simultaneously we would have begun with a rapid build-up in America of our strategically deterrent power and would have proceeded from that in phases to build up the military position of the west outward from the American center.

We would not have perpetrated the political nonsense of proposing to arm the Germans before we had armed the French, and of arming the French before we had armed ourselves. The policy of priority and phases would have given just as much military security as we shall get, and it would have reduced the political and economic strain, which is very great and can become too great, of trying to do much more than the governments that have to do it are politically and administratively capable of doing.

CONGRESSIONAL ADDRESSES . . Ohio's senators are Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. Representative Jackson E. Betts of the Eighth district and Congressman-at-large George H. Bender are in the House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Congress Quiz

Q—If the government is taking in more money than it is spending, why must taxes be increased at all?

A—The administration is committed to financing rearmament costs on pay-as-we-go basis. The fiscal situation now is so good that John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, April 2 scaled $6,500,000,000 off his original tax demands. But he insisted that defense spending will increase and that at least $10,000,000,000 in new taxes is essential.

Q—Where are most government defense contracts going?

A—California received the biggest share—18 percent—of the $8,927,407,000 in prime contracts let between July 1 1950 and Jan. 31, 1951. Most of its contracts were with the Air Force. New York, with 16.5 percent of all contracts, was second, with Michigan, Ohio, Connecticut and New Jersey following in that order.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Pfc. Emil Is Perplexed Anew

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA

DEAR BABE:

I heard Eric Johnston and Mike DiSalle have been fired by the President. They failed to control ticker tape and confetti. Is that true or false? Also I just read about Harry refusing to watch MacArthur on video, but Mac got even. He rerused to look at the telecast of Harry opening the Washington baseball season.

PHILLIPS

But what's got me all snarled up was trying to figure out why U.N., for which I am a strong rooter and whose whole future depends on doing the right thing to win friends and influence people, put the chill on Mac in the big homecoming parade. It couldn't of done more to advertise its big skyscraper home as a deep freeze unit if it had hired an advertising expert. That U.N. skyscraper has more windows than any other building on earth, and less confetti came out than from the smallest one-window shack in New York.

Here was the top commander of the U.N. forces in its own Korean battle home after almost a year of carrying its flag, and it was the only organization, institution or skyscraper in the city that paid no attention to him!

I wish I had been Grover Whalen. I would of marched Mac past the U.N. skyscraper and had the band play, "Baby, It's Cold INSIDE."

* * *

There has always been a place on the agenda for Vishinsky, Malik and Joe Stalin's other low punchers at the U.S.A. and U.N., but Doug MacArthur could not even get on its Friday visiting list. No bouquets, no cheers, not even a salute. All winter the boys threw banquets for top Russians, but they could not get around to even a frankfurter roast out behind the shed for the man who had led their forces through the tough going!

* * *

I guess it was the first time in history any outfit refused to stand up when its own flag bearer passed in review.

It was like the Brooklyn Rooters Club refusing to cheer a Dodger star, the Navy Club snubbing Admiral Halsey or them Knights of the Round Table taking a "throw da bum out!" mood toward King Arthur.

It was like hearing a fight manager tell his boy "I never seen you before in my life," five minutes after he had sent the kid in to be knocked out with a brave "Go in there and mix it with him. He can't hurt you."

* * *

I guess U.N. is in a touchy position on account of the diplomatic angles, but it is hard for me to see why it could listen to Soviet and Red China voice throwers blast the hide off its aims and purposes on television for weeks at a stretch (following it with friendly inches) and not even find time to say "Welcome home, Mac. Sorry this had to happen." If U.N. really was smart in public relations it would of come out with an open confetti policy, flung out a few MacArthur banners, had a delegation in the parade and hired somebody to sneak a MacArthur button on the lapel of the present secretary general, a Russian, when he wasn't looking. Yes, the U.N. has made some gestures to Doug since, but the memory of the deep freeze lingers on. The U.N. has more interpreters than anybody on earth. Could you get one of them to interpret this snub for me?

Love and kisses,

EMIL.

Her husband rushing home from work found her unconscious and the intruder gone. Sheriff's deputies checked hospitals and doctors' offices on the theory that the wounded burglar would need medical attention.

Church Women Hear Talk By Mrs. Knauss

A program on world relations was given at a meeting of the Marion County Council of Church Women Wednesday last week at the Y.M.C.A. Mrs. Paul Knauss was in charge. Theme of the program was "Battle for Bread," and Rev. and Mrs. David Schnable presented a film with that title.

Mrs. Knauss told the group, "Believing that all life is sacred, Christians must be concerned with every area of man's experience. Christian women must witness to their faith in Christ's power to transform the world. One half of the human race is ill fed and undernourished. If the cry of these millions for daily bread is answered, it will be done through the medium of the soil. It has been estimated that it takes nature 400 to 1,000 years to build an inch of top soil. Man must lend a helping hand to build this, the source of daily bread that God bestows upon both the grateful and ungrateful. The farmer is a co-worker with God. He cannot consider his responsibility to the land apart from his responsibility to his neighbor. The Food and Agriculture Organization was the first of the specified agencies of the United Nations, with 64 member nations in F.A.O. Its motto is 'Let there be bread'."

To open the meeting, Mrs. L. H. Ludwig presided. Women of Wesley Methodist Church were hostesses. Mrs. B. H. Rice led devotions on "Giving." May Fellowship Day was announced for Friday, May 4, at 12:30 p.m. at First Evangelical and Reformed Church. Rev. Schnable, pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, and Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, were guests, and the latter pronounced benediction.

Court Upholds Phone Company

COLUMBUS, April 26—(AP)—Irvin Vandemark and other Hancock County residents yesterday lost their bid for court authority to change telephone companies.

The complained to the public utilities commission that Ohio Associated Telephone Company service to them was inadequate. The Ohio company denied it.

Vandemark and the others asked permission to subscribe to the Ada exchange of the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Ohio company asked the PUCO to dismiss the complaint. The firm said Vandemark and the others live in territory served by the Jenera exchange of the Ohio company.

The commission dismissed the complaint on grounds that service was not inadequate. The Supreme Court affirmed the PUCO decision.

The Marion Board of Education met at noon Tuesday in an informal session at a luncheon at Hotel Harding. The floor-plan layout of the proposed new senior high school was studied.

May Cash, Hold, Exchange Them

3 Opportunities Open To E Bond Holders

The Savings Bonds Division for Ohio, U. S. Treasury Department, announced today that an estimated $65 400,000 in Series E Bonds will mature between May 1—next Tuesday—and the end of the year. At the same time it made public the details of alternatives open to Ohio's Savings Bond holders.

The Ohio estimate of bonds which will mature within this period is based on a national figure of $1,090,000,000; Ohio's bond sales have consistently run approximately six percent of national sales.

But there was no estimate forthcoming from the local office on the amount of bonds which actually would be cashed in. It was pointed out by State Director Merrill L. Predmore that extensive benefits would accrue to bond holders who take advantage of the recently-enacted law providing for payment of additional interest to bond owners who hold their bonds. Also, said Predmore, holders of maturing E-Bonds have been offered the privilege of exchanging them for G-Bonds which pay 2 50 percent interest, as contrasted with the E-Bond's 2 9 percent, but on which interest is paid by Treasury check every six months.

Opportunities Offered

Here are the opportunities offered holders of E-Bonds when they mature:

1. As always, they may cash in their bonds, receiving their initial investment plus accrued interest. It should be borne in mind, however, that once bonds are so redeemed, the bond purchasers may not take advantages of the alternative options.

2. The owners of matured E-Bonds may take no action and merely retain their original bonds thus beginning to earn additional interest at a rate which will amount to 2 9 percent over the period of an additional ten years or, for example, realize a total return of $133.33 on an initial investment of $75.00, or, in the case of an $18.75 bond, realize a 20-year total return of $33.33. In addition, taxes on interest on the bonds need not be paid until the bonds actually are redeemed unless the owner already has begun to pay taxes annually on his interest accumulation.

3. He may exchange his E-Bonds for current-interest G-Bonds, the only restriction being that exchanges must be made in multiples of $500. This exchange is designed to provide advantages to those bond holders who prefer to receive interest semi-annually rather than at the end of the ten-year period. An added advantage is found in such an exchange in that G-Bonds received under such an exchange will always be redeemable at par. This means that a $500 G-Bond which has been received through an exchange for E-Bonds, will be worth $500 at all times and the bond holder will have received, in addition, his semi-annual interest checks throughout the period he has held the G-Bond.

Table Of Values

The Savings Bonds Division made public the following table as an example of the value of a $75.00 E-Bond during the second ten-year period:

Bucyrus Traffic Accidents Increase

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 26 — Traffic mishaps in Bucyrus during the first quarter of 1951 showed a sharp increase over the first quarter of last year, statistics released by Police Chief Arthur Stuckert disclosed.

During the first quarter of this year, 89 accidents have been investigated or reported to police while the 1950 total for the same period was only 63. Police blamed the severe winter weather, icy streets and limited visibility for the rise in accidents.

Last month, 24 accidents occurred while the March, 1950, total was 19. Only one person was injured last month and three others have been injured in auto collisions since Jan. 1. The 1950 injury total for the first quarter was 5.

Heir Contests Will Of Galion Woman

BUCYRUS, April 26—An action, contesting the will of Bessie Todd, Galion and Crestline piano instructor, who died Oct. 2, 1950, has been filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Rose Todd of Van Wert, an heir of the estate.

The court is asked to rule which of two wills filed in Probate Court here is the valid last will of Miss Todd. The plaintiff claims that Bessie Todd signed a paper on July 15, 1949 said to be her last will, which was filed in Probate Court. On Oct. 24, 1950, another document, which was claimed to be Miss Todd's last will, was filed in the court. The latter document was signed Sept. 8, 1950.

The Van Wert heir alleges that the second document filed is not the last will of Miss Todd.

Others named as defendants because they are beneficiaries under the will are Herbert L. Todd of Vain Wert, administrator, Mrs. Charles Elgar of Claysville, Pa., the Cleveland Museum, Theodore Rehl, Marion, Rose Todd, the plaintiff, and Edward Jones, Galion attorney, as trustee of the estate.

AUXILIARY MEETS

A social meeting of Roosevelt Auxiliary 277 to Lodge No. 1281 and Local No. 1059, Machinists, was held Monday night. Prizes in games went to Mrs. Anita Conkle, Mrs. Edith Heller and Mrs. Hattie Roller. A mother-daughter supper will be held May 14 with Mrs. Lucille Cocherl in charge.
